

Dough to School Goes

Education in Contra Costa County is big business. An analysis of the expenditures of all of the school districts in the county, issued this week by the office of Floyd Marchus, County Superintendent of Schools, shows that during the school year 1962-1963 a grand total of $76,677,754.08 was spent on education in the county last year.

A BREAKDOWN of this total shows that approximately $21.75 million was spent by elementary school districts; something over $18.50 million by high school districts, about $31 million by unified districts and a little over $5 million by junior colleges.

The report also shows that over a 14 year period, starting with the school 1949-1950, the expenditures per A.D.A. (average daily attendance) in the elementary schools has risen from $174 to $407; in high school districts, from $299 to $578; in unified districts (starting with 1955-1956), from $332 to $487.

IN THE ELEMENTARY school group the highest expenditure per A.D.A. was in the Selby district — $863 for an average daily attendance of 33; the lowest, Vine Hill — $326 for 664 students.

A.D.A. expenditures for elementary systems in this area are shown by the report to be in between these two extremes and somewhat higher than the county average. Walnut Creek, with an enrollment of 4354, spent $402, five dollars below the average.

AVERAGES FOR OTHER area elementary schools were: Lafayette, 4707 students, $429; Danville Union, 1972, $449; Alamo, 1180, $456; and Orinda Union, 3620, $469.

Among the high school districts the average expenditure per A.D.A. for the year was $578. Highest in the county was the John Swett High School District with an average of $771 for 631 students; low, San Ramon Valley with $517 for 1361 pupils. The Alacalanes district with an average daily attendance of 5535, had an average expenditure of $631.

Average expenditures per A.D.A. among the unified districts was $487. Lowest in the group was Mt. Diablo Unified District with an average daily attendance of 35,351 and an average expenditure of $449. Second was Antioch with 5572 students and an average of $573 and high was Pittsburg, 6211 students, $624.

(Ed. Note: Following is a table breakdown of expenses for the three largest central county school districts. Omitted from the breakdown but included in the grand total are food services, community services, capital outlay, building funds, and state school building.)

Redistrict or Jail Is Choice

Possible contempt of court charges and jail terms will face the Board of Supervisors if they fail to redistrict the county by December 14 according to court order by Superior Judge David F. Bush in Martinez. Judge Bush, in a judgment handed down two weeks ago, rapped the supervisors for "stalling" on the issue in violation of California standards for redistricting.

THE SUPERVISORS were also reminded this week that continued postponement of redistricting might result in the next election for the board being on an at-large basis.

This warning was made by Attorney Douglas Cowan, a representative of the Contra Costa Bar Association. Cowan cited a similar case in Michigan, and District Attorney John A. Nejedlik agreed that Judge Bush might rule in this manner.

An at-large election would mean that supervisors would be determined by votes of the entire county rather than by the residents of the districts.

THE THREE supervisors who are opposed to attempts to redistrict now are Mel Nielsen, a new jail!

Joseph Silva and Edmund Lin-scheid.

Nielsen, supervisor from District 2, states that the voters in this area "couldn't care less."

THE SUPERVISORS have five plans to choose from at their December 10 meeting. The original plan was predicated on population, according to Nielsen. A four-to-one vote is necessary for adopting a plan—not a simple majority.

His own plan includes future growth projection for the area, according to Nielsen. "You cannot redistrict on the basis alone," he said. "Topography and growth factors must be considered."

IF THEY WANT us to do it, they should give us something to work with and not just for political reasons, Nielsen told The Sun yesterday. "This should be an off-year program—not during election year." He pointed out that during a presidential election it would necessitate changing all of the precincts.

County Administrator Joseph P. McBrien said at Wednesday's meeting that if the supervisors are sent to jail because of their reluctance to redistrict—the county would be sure to get district now are Mel Nielsen, a new jail!

'Is Fluoridation Moral or Legal?' —Panel Topic

The problems surrounding fluoridation of the water supply in Contra Costa County came up for further discussion at a public meeting at Ygnacio Valley School last night.

The third of four monthly meetings scheduled by the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the Treated Water Division, Contra Costa County Water District, the discussions were limited to the "Moral and Legal Aspects of Fluoridation."

REPRESENTING the proponents in the discussion were the Rev. Robert Vaughn, assistant pastor, First Presbyterian Church, Concord, and Wiley Manuel, deputy attorney general, State Attorney-General's office, San Francisco.

Speaking for the opponents were Dr. Frederick B. Exner, an X-ray diagnostician and therapist, Seattle, and a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School, and Walter Miller research secretary, California Committee, Pure Water Association of America, Sunnyvale.

IN HIS talk, the Rev. Vaughn pointed out that in this country the moral case is based on "our Judeo-Christian heritage" which goes beyond individualism to the community. He emphasized that concerning fluoridation of water, if that is good "and the experts say it is," no matter how the individual may feel, he has no moral right to deny its benefits to the children of the community.

He also indicated that he felt that it was absurd that physicians and dentists have had to give so much of their time to "selling" an idea that has had almost universal acceptance and approval.

Discussing the legal side of fluoridation, Attorney Manuel stated that the practice is constitutional—"the courts have so held."

IN CASES that have been tried in many states, including California, Washington and Oregon, many of the "charges" against fluoridation have been advanced — "unlawful medication," "mass medication," "poisoning of the water," "invasion of personal rights." In all of the cases the courts have held in favor of the practice.

In California, in the d'Aryan vs. Butler case which was concerned with fluoridation in the City of San Diego, the State Supreme Court declined to hear the case, thus letting the decision of the district court of appeals stand.

Opposing fluoridation, Miller pointed out that the question as to whether or not it is actually moral to fluoridate touches on many points. "Is it actually moral, for instance, to compel one's neighbor to take something he may not want or need?" he asked.

Nike Base for Juvenile Use

The deactivated 25-acre Nike base on Wildcat Ridge may be used to relieve overcrowdedness at Juvenile Hall, if a request for a lease priority is approved.

County Administrator J. P. McBrien asked the priority in a letter to Rep. John F. Baldwin. It was reported Alameda County is interested in the site for development as a residential training center for boys who drop out of school.

Will Incorporation Get Rolling?

Hilltop Upheaval Over Reversal

Eight lots which once belonged to the late gambler, Bones Remmer, at the top of Overhill Drive, are the center of a storm of controversy. Request to subdivide five of the lots to less than one-half acre was twice denied and once withdrawn in separate actions at the county level.

November 13, the County Planning Commission's board of adjustment reversed its previous decision and granted a land use variance for the lots. They are at Overhill Road and Highland Court.

JAMES O. KING, attorney, appeared for the applicant, Mrs. Irene Newton of Los Angeles. He argued that the overall density of the area would be the same since contractor Fuller and Eymann intends to subdivide the land into eight sites.

"Nine sites would be within the zoning, but isn't practical because of the topography." The lots would range in price from $13,000-$15,000, he said.

Ring also pointed out that the property was laid out in the old subdivision, approved June 22, 1945, before the one-half acre ordinance.

HOWARD H. BELL, 38 La Cuesta, Orinda, an Oakland attorney associated with Breed, Robinson and Stewart, filed an appeal with the planners. He is the spokesman for 166 residents who signed a petition protesting the permit.

The appeal expresses dissatisfaction with the board's reversal of the commission's two earlier plans in time for Tuesday's hearing by the board. Woodland Terrace Homeowners Improvement Association is protesting the variance request. Investigating it is the Orinda Association planning committee.

Hassle Over 'Passle'

A decision on the subdivision of property formerly owned by Del Courtney has been postponed by the Board of Adjustment. The new owners, Midtown Development Company, requested the adjusters to make an exception in the minimum 1/2-acre zoning ordinance.

The County Board of Adjustment recently postponed decision on the request. This is due to the fact that the engineer had not submitted the grading plan.

The terrain is quite steep there, according to the planning staff. Engineer Murry McCormack had hoped to submit the plans in time for Tuesday's hearing by the board. Woodland Terrace Homeowners Improvement Association is protesting the variance request. Investigating it is the Orinda Association planning committee.

They Get Together

The public speaking classes of the Alacalanes Adult Evening Center and the Mt. Diablo Evening School held the second of two joint meetings of the fall semester Wednesday at Alacalanes High School.

Instructors Raymond Mansfield and Bruce Reeves were both enthusiastic in their praise on such meetings.

No Debate -- Report Sticks to the Facts

Will a movement to incorporate Orinda get under way? The board of directors of the Orinda Association will meet Monday night to discuss what action, if any, to take regarding the recently completed Orinda Incorporation Report.

A review of the objective study attracted about 75 people to Orinda School Monday night. The 51-page report was summarized by study committee chairman Walter Treanor.

HE ADDRESSED a public meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Orinda Association. In making the introduction, Civic Affairs Committee Chairman Charles Legge asked that the meeting not be turned into a debate on incorporation during the hour-long question and answer period which followed Treanor's summary of the objective report.

"The debate is yet to come," said Legge yesterday. "However, Monday night was not the time for it. Questions asked were very fair."

COMMENTING on the size of the crowd, Legge stated that "a number of people showed a great amount of interest; however, not as much interest as should have been shown."

He said that if people wanted to see incorporation move ahead the report could be a good starting point. "But it is only a starting point."

THE ASSOCIATION directors will decide whether or not to take action on the report. There is also the possibility that a private group could promote it. A committee for incorporation will have to take it from here if the movement is to keep going.

Upon completion of the report last month, the directors decided to present it to the community in its objective form. Association President Harry Flederman was among those who felt that the report would be more meaningful if evaluations were made.

Flederman appointed the committee March 7, 1963. The detailed report was made without cost to the association.

TREANOR'S presentation of the report Monday night lent to the objective tenor. He explained that human error is avoided by not attempting to sell a point of view.

Copies of the report are available from any member of the association board of directors, incorporation study group, or at the Orinda Library.

Treanor stressed that the question which the report asks is up to each individual to answer for himself: "Does local self-government hold sufficient attractiveness to warrant the likely imposition of some additional taxes?"

TREANOR referred to a previous pro-incorporation study in 1957 as being an honest report. Chairman of that group, Paul Pollaczek, was in the audience. Incorporation was blocked from reaching the ballot stage by 51 per cent of the property holders.

Miramonte Mirror

Sadie Hawkins Is a Hit

By FRAN OBRECHT and CAROL MEYER
Last weekend proved to be an exciting one as far as many Miramonte students were concerned. The Sadie Hawkins Dance and the Sub-Deb Ball were the highlights of the weekend. A Senior Shanghai and after dance parties were also a part of this fun weekend.

THE SADIE HAWKINS Dance on Friday night was filled to capacity. Some of the couples dancing to the not so good music were Cindy Hamilton and Marshall Shover, Bill Milton and Pam Pixley, Debbie Palmquist and Mark Locklin, Doug DeCosta and Sandy Eames, Sis Boyle and Dirk Vandersloot, Jennie Ferguson and Dick Blair, Karin Bently and Jeff Ellermeier, Karin Nattress and Pete Boyle, Greg Holmes and Ginger Ronald, Toni Ayres and Max Milton, Steve Greathouse and Bonny Beasley, Nan VanGelder and Dave Texdahl, and many, many more. Although the music was not as good as could be expected, it picked up later on when they played "Louie, Louie."

After the dance some senior couples went to Ginger Ronald's house for doughnuts and cider. Those who were "relaxing" were Benton Hildebrand and Katy Dullom, Chris Campbell and Kit Kersch, Ginger and Greg Holme, Fran Obrecht and Tevis Thompson, and Mike Shepherd and his date.

The third annual Sub-Deb Ball was most likely the best dance of the year so far. The Night Caps provided just the kind of music that everyone was in the mood to hear. Some of those having the time of their life were Hap Parks and Sue Leftwich, Connie DeLavega and Greg Davidson, Sue Harlander and Jack Kammeijer, Crissy Voll and Bill Cooper, Bob Miller and Mimi McGah, Terry Palmquist and Bob Martin, Sandy La Rue and John Weatherbe, Tom Archer and Linda Rice, John DenDulk and Sue La Plant, Cathy Cole and Mike Davis, Karin Bently and Jeff Ellermeier, and a few other couples. Miramonte seemed to take over the dance with the favorite circle dance.

SATURDAY MORNING made Friday night seem awfully short for many seniors. At the unheard hour of six-thirty in the morning the following girls were meeting at Lucky's parking lot to Shanghai a group of unsuspecting boys: Gayle Baker, Chris Campbell, Alison Horn, Anne White, Paula Corsi, Jeanne Quinn, Joan Dirickx, Carol Meyer, Karin Nattress, and Fran Obrecht. The boys were treated to a free breakfast which disappeared in a matter of minutes.

Those "gluttons" seen inhaling 36 eggs, 60 pancakes, and 3 pounds of bacon were Doug Dermit, Jay Grilli, Tevis Thompson, Pete Boyle, Kit Kersch, Bob Miller, Hap Parks (who sleeps in a leopard nightgown), Gary McCosker, Bob Lyman, and Dave Perrish.

Congratulations are in order to the following Varsity football players who made the All-League team—Bill Cooper, Tevis Thompson, and Pete Boyle. Hard work certainly pays off in the long run doesn't it boys?

SUNDAY CONCERT—Pianist Pete Clute with jazz band leader Turk Murphy run through a ragtime solo in preparation for this Sunday's concert by the full band at 3:30 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Library. Master of ceremonies at the concert, one of the Art Forum Series, will be Philip Elwood, jazz critic and program producer at KPFA.

Freeway Causes Three Deaths

Freeway accidents in the vicinity of Lafayette this week claimed three lives.

Two were killed and three injured in a rear-end collision in the station wagon in which the five were riding was struck by a car driven by Dexter L. Parkerson, 21, Concord, according to the highway patrol.

THE THIRD death, that of a Concord housewife, occurred early Sunday evening when her husband swerved the car to avoid a deer on the highway and lost control of it.

Killed in the Tuesday accident were Mrs. Hattie Shirek, Berkeley, who was driving, and John Meir, 7, Oakland. Injured in the accident were Doria Maszkowski, 61, Berkeley; Helen Jones, 20, Berkeley, and Billy Hill, 5, Oakland.

THE ACCIDENT happened in the station wagon in which the five were riding was struck by a car driven by Dexter L. Parkerson, 21, Concord, according to the highway patrol.

Mrs. Shirek, the assistant director of the Ronoh Pre-school for Disturbed Children, was driving the group to the Highland Building in Walnut Creek where a school for emotionally disturbed children is holding classes.

ALL FIVE were thrown out of the car by the impact. The injured were taken to hospitals, treated and released.

Mrs. Robert Z. Smith, Concord, was killed and her daughter, Lynda, seriously injured in the Sunday accident. In attempting to avoid the deer, her husband's car crossed the center strip on the freeway and collided with a car driven by Adrienne R. Gensoul, Walnut Creek.

Smith and the three other children, Carol, Tommy and Kevin, were treated at the hospital and released. Gensoul is at Kaiser Memorial Hospital with head injuries and face lacerations. While he is slightly improved, his condition is still listed by the hospital as critical.

Health Officials For Fluoridation

In connection with the present controversy in the county over the question of fluoridation of the water supply as a method of controlling tooth decay, the County Health Department has come out in favor of immediate fluoridation.

In the November issue of its publication, Health Headlines, the department urges, "The time to act is NOW. Delay in fluoridation means unnecessary dental decay of children's teeth for the rest of their lives."

Following is the article in full:

Supposing -- Proposing -- Disposing --

Let us do some supposing.

Suppose your health department advised you that a very simple method had been discovered to reduce cancer by 50 per cent; suppose this very simple method was safe, effective and very economical; and, suppose it was approved and recommended by every important national organization concerned with health.

IF ALL THIS were true, wouldn't you suppose the public would make a very strong demand that it be made available without delay?

The answer would seem to be an unquestioned "Yes!" This is all supposition at this time, but there is great hope that there will be some major breakthrough in the battle against cancer.

THERE IS another disease of such national and international dimensions that it is no exaggeration to describe it as epidemic in our country. This disease starts very early and continues during most of our lives. It has been described by the Commission on Chronic Illness as a chronic disease. Very few escape its ravages. The national bill for this disease has been estimated at more than $2 billion.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly that this disease can be reduced by at least 50 per cent, that the method is safe and economical, and that it is endorsed and recommended by every important national organization concerned with health.

IN CONTRA COSTA County, the children at Antioch and Gregory Gardens are living proof that this preventive method can reduce this disease dramatically.

Furthermore, it has been demonstrated that this disease prevention advantage lasts a lifetime. Reports from all over the country and from many parts of the world confirm that this disease is being reduced by 50 per cent and more.

WE ASK, "Why should the children of Antioch and Gregory Gardens enjoy this great advantage over other Contra Costa children in the battle against this disease?"

And the answer becomes very clear!

In 1952 the City Council of Antioch investigated the proposal to prevent this disease.

After due investigation, with recommendations from the health professions, the city council took action.

IN 1955, after appropriate investigation and a poll of the consumers, the Gregory Gardens County Water District proceeded to institute this preventive procedure.

Today this disease is less of a problem and the cost of care has been reduced for the children of Antioch and Gregory Gardens. These are happier and healthier children. This advantage will be theirs for life.

WHAT HAS been achieved in Antioch and Gregory Gardens can be duplicated in every part of the county.

Together with the members of the health professions serving the people of your community, your County Health Department stands ready to assist in bringing about the earliest application of this simple method of preventing this chronic disease.

As the Commission on Chronic Illness phrased it: "We, therefore, urge all of our leaders in every community to adopt this public health measure—fluoridation if the public water supply—as a positive step in the prevention of the chronic disease, dental decay."

THE TIME to act is NOW. Delay in fluoridation means unnecessary dental decay of children's teeth for the rest of their lives.

We are not supposing. We are proposing! And the children will gain or lose according to your disposing.

Bomb Scare —Ho-Hum!

By CONNIE PIKE

It was a quiet afternoon with black, heavy clouds threatening. Lunchtime was past, and most of the businessmen and office girls had returned to their afternoon's work.

A few shoppers walked along the downtown streets of Lafayette, unhurried. A week ago Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock.

With a friend, I sat in a shop with its front door open to the mild air. We were deep in a discussion.

A 10-horsepower siren blasted off, rising to a high pitch, dropping, rising again. We talked on.

A FEW SECONDS passed, and the siren continued its screech. We stood up and walked to the door, the raucous noise splitting our ears.

"What is it, do you think?" I asked.

My friend's face went rigid. "It sounds like an alert."

We stood in the open doorway listening as the siren sent its full, now-steady force into the air.

"I'll turn on the radio," my friend said.

"I'll call my office," I said. The newspaper office line buzzed a busy signal, and we could hear nothing from the little radio.

THE SIREN continued its blast.

"We should get under something," I said, and darted a glance around the shop, noting the heavy desks.

"I'm going to school for my children," my friend said. Worry had seeped into her face and voice.

"Then I'll go back to my office," I decided. We rushed into the street and met a neighbor.

We explained our hasty plans to her and hurried away in different directions.

ALONG THE SIDEWALK I met a postman delivering the afternoon mail. With confidence in the blue-grey uniform of the U.S. Post Office, I asked, "What do you think it is?"

"A test, probably," he said and grinned. I wondered whether he thought I was a silly, frightened woman and lost the feeling of confidence.

At the intersection of Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Hough Street I waited for traffic to pass. Cars moved along in the regular traffic pattern, taking the right-of-way although I stood in the crosswalk.

A FEW PEDESTRIANS continued on their leisurely way, and I wondered why nobody was doing anything. They seemed not to hear the blast that swelled the air.

"Come on, people," I thought impatiently. "Let me go across."

At a break in the traffic I hurried across. On the side street leading to the office I ran, arriving breathlessly to ask, "What is it?"

The office girls didn't know. The reporters didn't know. Nobody knew.

I called the fire department. The line was busy. I sat down and caught my breath and dialed again, hearing the silence as the siren died away.

"WHAT'S the siren?"

"It was accidentally set off, ma'am," a soft voice replied.

But what if it hadn't been, I wondered. Which alert had sounded—a red or a yellow? There was the undulating sound, followed by a long blast and ending with another up-and-down wave.

Which sound meant what?

Reports gathered later clearly showed confusion as to what had been heard and what action was called for.

Persons hearing the siren gave conflicting reports. It had sounded, some said. It had held steady—a long, long blast, others declared.

ACCORDING to the Lafayette Fire Department, it was a yellow alert, rising and falling upon starting, holding steady, and ending with another rise and fall. It was the second accidental alert set off in the past five years. Antioch had one last year.

Proper action would have been to turn on the radio or television, according to Will Perry, director of the county disaster office, and await further information and instructions.

Had the siren been a continuous rising and falling sound it would have signaled a red alert, indicating "take cover."

While some people turned on their radios, many called the fire department for information, including the Lafayette School District office.

THE COUNTY DISASTER OFFICE received six calls.

By far the largest number of people did nothing. They assumed it was an accidental signal, a fire, ambulance or the highway patrol, or they sat back and waited for somebody to let them know what was happening. Some people didn't hear it.

Perry said the reaction ranged from doing absolutely nothing to standing still in amazement . . . to panic . . . to going calmly to a pre-arranged shelter and turning on the radio.

HE SAID the schools took preliminary steps toward their yellow alert plans, but since their bell-and-lights systems didn't go into operation they checked before going farther.

The disaster office, the fire departments and the schools should receive alert instructions through two different means of communication before acting, Perry said.

For schools, the two media are the siren and the bell-and-lights. For individuals, Perry pointed out, there are the siren and the radio or television.

ALL STATIONS will broadcast instructions, or read prepared closing scripts directing listeners to other stations broadcasting civil defense instructions, in event of a real alert.

Perry reminded that a yellow alert—the steady blast—signals us to listen for radio information and instructions.

A red alert—a continuous rising and falling siren—indicates imminent attack with nuclear weapons by hostile forces. With a red alert blowing, cover should be sought immediately.

Well, that's what happened last week and a reminder of what we ought to do in future.

Under stress, I couldn't remember, nor could a good many other people.

If you heard the siren—what would you do?

Further Help for Would Be Suicides

A request for follow-up service on a majority of the estimated 700 persons who attempt suicide every year in the county is being considered by the Social Program Committee of the county board of supervisors, according to the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association.

Efforts to learn how best to prevent recurrence of attempts and to reduce the number of overdose-takers, carbon-takers, carbon monoxide inhalers and self shooters are being made with the cooperation of the county health department.

AN IMPORTANT move in the fight to cope with the problem was the launching early in September of the Contra Costa Suicide Prevention Project by the Mental Health Association. The telephone number is 939-3232. Clergymen, psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric social workers are cooperating in this project.

"However," Mrs. Estelle Girande, executive director of the Mental Health Association, informed the board in a letter, "police enforcement officers join us in the belief that the program should include follow-ups on initial suicide attempts."

"Too often when a patient is taken to a hospital he is dismissed within 24 hours or so. If he is not or cannot be encouraged to seek professional help—in other words—on follow-up is arranged—he makes a second attempt and winds up as a fatality in the vital statistics column."

"IT IS our understanding that the present caseload of the public health nurse is too heavy for such responsibility. However, we urge you to consider use of county nurses for a controlled study of follow-up for the estimated 700 persons who attempt suicide in our county yearly."

Mrs. Girande's request will be considered by the Social Progress Committee. She pointed out that while in 1962 there were a total of 344 suicide attempts at the County Hospital alone, this year there has been an increase with a total of 313 for nine-month period through September.

Regional Chief, Mental Health, Is Donald Brown

Dr. Donald T. Brown, 38, a psychiatrist and currently a participant in advanced studies in community psychiatry at Columbia University, has been appointed regional chief of state-local mental health services for a 17-county area that includes Contra Costa. The Department of Mental Hygiene announced today. The appointment will be effective December 1.

As central region chief, Dr. Brown will work with nine programs approved for reimbursement under the Short-Doyle Act for Community Health Services and will assist other communities in his area in the development of local mental health services under the act.

Last year's figures also included 58 under 20 years of age, or 17 per cent of the total attempts reported in a controlled situation (County Hospital Psychiatric Ward).

THE MENTAL HEALTH Association official added, "We will be compiling data regarding the general nature of the problems, immediate disposition, follow-up and referrals. We hope with this material we can properly evaluate and adjust the program as we go along. Findings of the suicide prevention project are expected to be reported to the proper agencies early next year."

Jean E. Neighbor, M.D., practicing psychiatrist, Walnut Creek, and professional chairman for the Contra Costa County Mental Health Association, is consultant for the project and the Rev. Aron S. Gilmartin, president of the association and minister of Diablo Unitarian Church, serves on the advisory committee.

Supporting groups include Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association, Central Contra Costa Council of Churches, Contra Costa Council of Churches, Contra Costa Council of Churches, Contra Costa County Chiefs of Police Association, Community Mental Health Services and County Health Department.

Traditional Jazz Features Sunday Forum Concert

Turk Murphy will present a Jazz Concert in the Walnut Creek City Library Sunday at 3:30 p.m., as part of the Art Forum Series under the sponsorship of the Civic Arts Center, City of Walnut Creek.

Murphy's Jazz Band has a distinctive style which uses early jazz traditions (sometimes called "New Orleans Jazz" as a point of departure. Far from being a razzle dazzle bunch of "Dixielanders," Murphy's band utilizes its years of experience and musical proficiency by presenting the most varied and imaginative concert presentations available in the world of Traditional Jazz.

TRADITIONAL Jazz developed in the first years of this century by incorporating ragtime, the blues, military marches, new dance music, and the instrumental ingenuity of young enthusiastic, individualistic performers. The Turk Murphy Band has been singularly effective in carrying forth this tradition during the past decade.

Turk Murphy, trombone, Bob Helm, clarinet, and Squire Girsh, bass, are veterans of the Lu Waters Yerba Buena Jazz Band of the 1940s. Pianist Pete Clute has been with Murphy for ten years, having replaced his original tutor, Wally Rose (famed Waters pianist).

CORNETIST Bob Neighbor has one of the most brilliant sounds in Traditional Jazz, with clean phrasing and elegant tone.

reminiscent of the great jazz star of the 1920's, "Bix" Beiderbecke. Drummer Thad Vanden helps to swing the normally rigid New Orleans style march tempos, and adds a touch of informality with his vaudeville-tinged vocals and relaxed percussion contributions.

The Turk Murphy Jazz Band plays regularly at its own unique club, Earthquake McGoon's, on Clay Street in San Francisco.

Philip F. Elwood, who is acting as master of ceremonies for the concert, is one of the nation's better known jazz commentators, with three weekly programs broadcast in New York City, Los Angeles, and Berkeley.

Men's Garden Group Will Meet Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Diablo Men's Garden Club will be held on Monday at Kellogg's Walnut Creek restaurant.

The study session will be on lilies. Primary emphasis will be on cultivation, growth, and hybridization of the newer varieties which have been developed in the past decade.

Discussion leader will be Prentice Wharf, Oakley, who has developed numerous lilies for Contra Costa County. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Disaster Office Tells Location Of Alert Sirens

The County Disaster Office has 17 locations for nuclear alert sirens. Locations activated by the Central Fire Station at Walnut Creek are:

Whyte Park and Boulevard Drive, Ward and Murwood Drive, El Cortado and Kinney, all Walnut Creek; and Highway 24 and Pleasant Hill Road, Lafayette.

Those activated by the Orinda Fire Department are: Sleepy Hollow and Lombardy Lane, Highway 24 and Moraga Road, Glorietta Boulevard and Martha Road and Moraga Highway near Glorietta, all Orinda.

Lafayette Fire Department activates the following: Hamlin Drive and St. Mary's Road, Upper Happy Valley Road and Highway 24, Lafayette Freeway near Happy Valley Road, all Lafayette.

A siren at Camino Del Moraga near Moraga Highway, Moraga, is activated by the Moraga Fire Department.

Central Fire Department, Walnut Creek, activates a siren at Jackson Way near Highway 21, Alamo; and the County Communications Building activates one at Bella Vista and Leslie Avenue, Mountain View, Martinez.

Other sirens are located within city limits of Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek.

Another Gas Refund Coming

Householders can soon expect another reduction in natural gas bills and possibly a cash refund.

The El Paso Natural Gas Company of Texas has agreed to rebate $155 million to customers in three states, according to California Public Utilities Commission President William M. Bennett.

The firm will also lower its rates by 3.3 cents per 1000 cubic feet of gas to California customers at the border.

Average refunds to Pacific Gas and Electric Company customers will be $11.20, Bennett said. The company decreased its rates and made refunds last August.

Mother Nature Paints Valley

By YVONNE MAUZEY

MAGNIFICENT COLORS of fall—Mother Nature is really outdoing herself this year, with the Christmas berries hanging like clusters of grapes, as the sunshiny days slip in between the frosts and the rains. Saturday morning found the sun shining like jewels on the rain droplets and the house-tops white with frost and steam rising from the warm sun.

As I look out across the yards and see the falling leaves floating down on the still breezes like feathers dipped in gold, to lie in heaps or to be carried by the wind racing across the emerald green lawns.

BERTHA BARNES celebrated her 100th birthday, on Draeger Drive, with a house full of friends and relatives, Sunday before last. Among those attending were Mort and Peg Cathro, Evelyn Post and her sister-in-law Alice, Min and Ken McEwing, Dwayne and Irene Anderson, Dedee and Ted Sawyer, Millie and Al Shain and Trudy and Hank Martin and clan.

Dorothy's grandmother, Mrs. Thompson, from Redwood City, also attended the celebration. So the four Wilson children had two great-grandmothers present.

DOROTHY WILSON looked ravishing in all the confusion, while Adin Wilson, the host, was confined to his bedroom with the flu.

Biggest thrill of Grandma Barnes' 100th birthday was receiving a congratulatory letter from President Kennedy. Grandma is a staunch Democrat, though her daughter, Madge Lude, is just as staunch a Republican. We can see that this is a family of free thinkers.

WELCOME BACK—Jane Putnam back at work, but still chuckling over the only pornographic get-well card in the United States, sent from Madison, Wisconsin, by the illustrious French Doubled.

WELCOME TO MORAGA—To our new neighbors on Lynch Court, Evon and Charles Sarment and their daughter Sally. . . . To Jean and Bob Coate and teen-agers Jania and Jack. . . . The Coates also have a married daughter and three grandchildren, ages 6 through 10, in the East. . . . Welcome to our new neighbors in the Bryant house on Devin Drive, Helen and Jerry Brown and their four daughters. . . .

Evon and Sally Sarment and Wendy Stevenson took a trip to San Francisco last Monday to take in the bridges and the zoo and the view of the city, via bus, so Evon could see the sights also and not have to be watching the road. . . .

YEAR BOOK DANCE and student elections—Campolindo students held their Year Book Dance and elections recently. Electing: Freshman princess, Barbie Bascom; sophomore princess, Sally Hartman; sweetheart, Kathy Rogers; best-dressed girl, Vallery Smith; boy, Danny Davis; athlete, Kevin Smith, and Ditto Clarke; campus flirt, Katie Morrison; campus wolf, Rex Shephard; best all around, Janet Lund and Tim Shea; service to the school, Craig Blanco and Pam Kelley; friendliest girl, Judy Lieberman, and friendliest boy, Curt Clark. . . .

SCHOOL PROGRAMS for Xmas season—The Campolindo music department will be giving an evening concert for their musical program today. . . . The Christmas program, which will be vocal and instrumental music, will be held Thursday, December 19th. . . . December will also see the starting of the boys' athletics, wrestling and basketball programs, which will run through February. . . .

NEWCOMERS DINNER DANCE—Dorie Swan and her committee, Emily Miles, Carol Stromberg, Marion Bailey, Gen Williams and Jo Tolhurst have done a beautiful job of planning the Newcomers Dinner Dance "Preseason Reason for Eating and Greeting" to be held at the Carroll Country Club tomorrow night.

Welcome to new members of the Newcomers Club: David and Lynn Meid, Alice and John Murtha, Marilee and Robert Porter, Frances and Chuck Lindgren, Shirley and Jim Shelby, Pat and Dale Guelinatti, Rosella and Allan Loux, Ellie and Harry Lott, Jenny and Kirk Kirchhoffer, Jane and Al Warnick and, last but not least, Betty and Marvin Held.

The next get-acquainted coffee will be held in the evening. New residents, if you would like to attend or join the Newcomers Club, call Lee Paris, 6-5694 for details.

SHORTS THE SPACE WILL ALLOW—Barbara Nelson back in the neighborhood giving the parties for the Service Guild for Retarded Children. . . . The Gorows spending Sunday at the Cow Palace and the Grand National Livestock Show a few weeks ago. . . . Viewing a new baby calf just a few hours old and the magnificent horses. . . . Sharon Levi going to Diablo College this year. . . . Hank Hall flying to Excelsior Springs, Mo., for a business meeting. . . . Debby and Chris Gorow down with the virus over the three-day weekend. . . . St. Mary's flu epidemic under control after 326 cases, and date changes for the finals. . . . # Lively Incorporation Questions

The following questions were among those asked at a meeting Monday night concerning the 51-page Orinda Incorporation Report pertaining to the area. Answers were given by study committee chairman Walter Treanor, a lawyer, and members of his committee. About 75 attended the meeting of the civic affairs committee of the Orinda Association at Orinda School.

Q. The report is published—what now?
A. It's up to you. The report tells how to incorporate and how to defeat it. A committee for incorporation would have to take it from here.

Q. How does Orinda compare to Pleasant Hill?
A. You cannot avoid establishing a property tax without a shopping center such as Pleasant Hill has. . . . It contracts out services thereby avoiding administrative costs. . . . Their income is so much higher than anything Orinda can expect. . . .

Q. If we were to incorporate, do you approve of contract system?
A. I'm an economy minded person. . . . Don't think there's any other route.

Q. Could a city use ordinary revenue for anything it wanted—a museum, for example?
A. Yes.

Q. What about lease-back building agreement—do you approve?
A. Yes.

Q. Then people don't have a chance to vote?
A. You do because by your vote at elections you can oust a man from office—or recall. . . . We get rascals in office. . . . If we don't remove them. . . . we must look to ourselves.

Q. Included in the study is the area of the district. . . . Could you include any area?
A. Yes. . . . so long as the boundaries are reasonable.

Q. Could you include the Rheem Shopping Center, for instance?
A. I refuse to answer that question on the grounds that it may incriminate me.

Q. Is the type of city government in the report flexible?
A. The required and optional officials are listed in the report.

Q. If we contract $135,000 for police, how do we know it won't go up?
A. By a contract, with a time limitation. . . . the county guarantees service for five years with the provision that if per unit cost goes up, so does charge.

Q. If it couldn't operate without a city attorney?
A. You don't expect me to knock lawyers! . . . You're going to need one. . . . Not me. . . . I spent eight years on this job in my community in Missouri. . . . Never made a dime. . . .

Q. In 10 cities chosen, is there any similar to Orinda in lack of industry and other aspects?
A. In my opinion, Escondido would come closest.

Q. Supposing we don't stay within the $1 per $100 evaluation for taxes?
A. This is required by law for a general law city.

Q. Obviously, the disadvantages of incorporation is economic. What are the advantages?
A. In my opinion, each one of us has to look within himself to say: Would it be worth $50 a year to me to have incorporation? He would have to decide. . . . satisfied with zoning. . . .

Q. Isn't the only problem that of police protection in a community as built-up as Orinda?
A. That's a personal observation. For instance, if you have no zoning problem, it doesn't mean that there are none. The Orinda Association planning committee works constantly with zoning problems.

Q. Can incorporation be deferred by owners of 51 per cent of assessed land valuation?

A. Yes.

Q. Isn't the county required to give us adequate police protection?
A. That's a question for Supervisor Nielsen. . . . According to the Sheriff's office, Orinda is susceptible to crimes against property. . . . Greater protection is given to areas where crimes against persons is prevalent. . . . There is a small chance to get increased protection.

Q. If we set up a special service police district, would it be excluded from beat 4?
A. Yes.

Q. If the budget goes down, would the county tax go down?
A. If we stop spending that money in Orinda, we are not going to stop spending it elsewhere, is the county's answer.

PANELISTS—Participants in a discussion of racial civil rights problems are (from left) Mrs. Beryl Lloyd, Frank Ladd, Robert Sharpe, Reuben Friedrich, program chairman, and the Rev. James Crothers.

Members of the Pleasant Hill High School Parents' Club listened intently to their opinions. Many questions came from the floor after the discussion.

Rights, 'Issue of Equality'

By CAROL GARDNER

A totally white audience listened to the opinions of a housewife, property owner, Negro spokesman, and clergyman on racial civil rights problems at the recent Tuesday evening meeting of the Pleasant Hill High School Parents' Club.

Although only two Negro families live in the city and the are snuggled up in a poor neighborhood, over 125 parents came to hear the panelists' views on how whites and Negroes should deal with the moral, legal, and social aspects of civil rights controversies.

FIRST TO speak was Mrs. Beryl Lloyd, junior member of the Board of Education of Mt. Diablo Unified School District, Phi Beta Kappa member, and resident of Pleasant Hill for the past 14 years. Then, Frank Ladd, vice-president-elect of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors, and a member of the newly established human rights committee, voiced his opinion.

Robert Sharpe, now associated with KQED-TV presented the attitude of one who inherited civil rights problems when he became a citizen of the United States.

Born in Jamaica, West Indies, and educated in British schools, Sharpe is an original member of the New York City CORE, and organizer for Oakland NAACP.

LAST PANELIST to speak was the Rev. James M. Crothers, founding pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church of Pleasant Hill and resident in this area since 1951.

Sharpe presented a brief history of the Negro's position in the United States. He described the Negro image accepted by whites as "an overloaded pack horse, who serves as an object of ridicule and humor."

"BUT AS SOON as the black man tries to assume an intellectual position, the white man stops laughing and orders, 'stay in your place boy,'" he said.

In order to preserve the American myth of a free country, Americans have perverted the fundamental civil rights laws of the nation, Sharpe added.

A major cause of the rights issue, according to Sharpe, is the white man's fear of the growing power of the white woman and the black man. He attributed the 90 per cent amalgamation of the national Negro population to the white man and black woman.

"IF THE MYTH of white supremacy continues, civilization is doomed and mankind will ultimately die," he warned. Patience and tolerance and understanding will have to be exercised in religion, education, and law in order to avoid this horrible cultural collapse, Sharpe stated.

"The Negro believes in the American Constitution and true Americanism, in the white man, and in a humanity that transcends race, creed and color. And because he believes this, he has faith in the black man's destiny of social justice," he affirmed.

Mr. Crothers warned that the longer the civil rights issue is ignored, the harder it will be to straighten out.

"What we need to do once and for all is to work to make it shine and really live that God has created all men equal. Equal in the sense of being real, whole, first class men, who believe in their true humanity and are free from persecution and insecurity," he said.

MRS. LLOYD limited her talk to the educational aspect of the civil rights problem. Now Negroes are denied their American rights to education of the same standard as the white culture's, she said.

"It is the duty of the schools to teach the knowledge, gained through scientific studies, of the equality of all races," Mrs. Lloyd stated.

"WE HAVE a great opportunity to eliminate the possibility of a segregation problem in Pleasant Hill before it gets started. We can do this by maintaining open housing and by closing any educational gaps between white and black children of the same grade level," she suggested.

Ladd warned against the violation of basic rights of property owners involved in civil rights issues. In order to preserve equality, public freedoms must be protected, he said.

ACCORDING to Ladd, the recently approved Rumford Housing Act violates the right of a home owner to dispose of his property as he wants. Sharpe offered him consolation in the fact that the majority of Negroes won't be able to live in suburban areas for "a terribly long time."

"In the last analysis, the whole thing comes down to housing," Crothers stated; "if you say people cannot buy a home in certain communities, you keep the basis of segregation. The whole business of freedom involves a compromise," he said.

"The Negroes have suddenly become aware of the possible accomplishments for their race if they work together," Sharpe commented; "now the whole process has gathered momentum and there is no stopping."

Helicopter Co. Seeks Port Site

A site for a heliport is sought in the Lafayette-Orinda vicinity, according to James Cunningham of SFO Helicopter Airlines, Inc. James Brown, representing the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday Cunningham looked at three sites for consideration—one near the Orchard Nursery, one near the Hillside Motel and a third in Orinda.

The company definitely plans to locate its port in the Lafayette-Orinda area, Brown said, and a decision on the site is expected soon. A minimum area of 200 by 200 feet is needed for landing, with an additional space required for storage of equipment.

SFO Helicopter plans six to eight scheduled stops here daily for its 10-passenger helicopters. At present it operates 82 scheduled flights daily between the San Francisco and Oakland Airports, Berkeley, downtown Oakland and San Francisco. It plans to serve Marin as well as Contra Costa Counties.

Rates would be about $11 to San Francisco Airport, it was noted.

High Density Is Current Trend In Realty

By ROSELLE ANDERSON

REAL ESTATE CONVENTION DISCLOSES NEW TRENDS—Among them is the high-density land use trend building homes on smaller lots, town houses and apartments in contrast to the present pattern of suburban development of the single family dwelling street after street with the same side and front yard setback.

This trend is the result of the high cost of land, the growing national concern over urban sprawl and the shift in the age pattern of population according to John F. Goldsmith, assistant managing editor of House and Home Magazine.

Color and design play a big part in "ultimately tipping the sales scale," commented art director Jan V. White, another member of the magazine's staff. This includes the basic shape of the structure, the finish, the texture, the colors, the light and dark, the flow of space as you walk from, through and into the vistas you see, he explained.

"HOUSING AND HOME, FINANCE BUSINESS CONTINUE TO FLOURISH THIS YEAR," J. Stanley Baughman, president of the Federal National Mortgage Association, told the realtors. "This activity reflects the presence of three basic ingredients in the economy: An abundance of both new and existing homes, and the need, and the desire and the capacity of consumers to purchase and rent homes. The indications are that these conditions, barring some major economic interruption, will continue to prevail in the immediate period ahead."

CONCORD RESIDENT SWITCHES LAKE INTERESTS: 23 years ago Bud Figueroa purchased 22 lots on the south shore of Lake Tahoe. He since has sold this property and has become general manager and partner in Clear Lake Paradise Land Investment Co., of 2805 38th Avenue, Oakland. Figueroa believes Clear Lake offers the same opportunity for real estate investors that Lake Tahoe did more than ten years ago.

Obviously Figueroa has faith in his convictions as he is presently developing an 800-lot project around the fifty square mile lake. The subdivision will have all city conveniences. Streets and water lines are being installed by the developer now. Electric power and phone service are available. Water service is being provided by the Mutual Water Co. of Nice. The lots in Clear Lake Paradise will average approximately 50x100-ft. and will sell for approximately $2000. Ten acres of beach frontage will be shared by Clearlake Paradise owners. To date 200 lots have been sold and 25 homes already erected.

"Clear Lake is conveniently located to the Bay Area as a center for weekend recreation or longer vacations as well as for permanent residence. It's just the place for fishing, water skiing, boating and swimming," adds Figueroa.

SEVENTY-EIGHT ACRES ZONED SINGLE FAMILY—The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved the rezoning from general agricultural to single family residential district of 78 acres fronting on the east side of Mitchell Canyon Road, south of the intersection with Herlihan Drive in the Concord area.

The request for rezoning for the 12,000-square-foot lots was made by owner Edith S. Lynch.

BERKELEY SAVINGS MORE THAN DOUBLES REAL ESTATE LOANS IN 1963—Rising to new record highs in real estate loan activity, Berkeley Savings and Loan Association this week reported an impressive 110.7 per cent increase in loans placed for the first ten months of 1963, versus the same period of last year.

With $5.3 million in new loans made during October, loan originations in the January thru October period amounted to $52.3 million, according to Sherman Miller, executive vice president and managing officer of Berkeley Savings. Through October of last year, new loans made were $40.9 million.

Scout Council Meets To Elect

Officers for Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council will be elected at the annual business meeting held Monday, 7:30 p.m. at Diablo Valley College. E. Morton Schaffran, council president, will be presiding.

In addition to a council president, there will be an election for four vice presidents, a commissioner, treasurer, and more than 60 executive board members representing all the geographical areas of the council. Reports will be given of the year's accomplishments by each of the eight operating committee chairmen.

TEST BORE—Drilling rig of Boyles Brothers Drilling Company makes test boring for the future rapid transit tunnel through the Berkeley hills. Location is near the Orinda Crossroads.

The Boyles firm is retained under sub-contract to engineering consultants of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. Various test holes will be drilled along the 3 1/2-mile tunnel alignment.

Contract Let For Transit Vehicles

The LeTourneau-Westinghouse Company of Peoria, Illinois, will fabricate two experimental models of its proposed new design for a transit truck, the Bay Area Rapid Transit District has announced.

A truck is the assembled unit beneath a rail transit car that combines the suspension system, wheels, power mechanism, transmission and braking system.

THE $268,000 subcontract was made by Parsons Brinckerhoff, Tudor-Beechell, consulting engineers for the transit district. A similar contract was granted earlier to the Budd Company of Philadelphia.

At least one other firm will be selected to produce a transit truck design. Performance of the trucks will be compared on the district's planned 4 1/2-mile test track near Concord. The test track will constitute an advance section of the 75-mile regional rapid transit network to be developed.

Goal of the truck test program is to determine which design of combination can provide the highest performance and riding characteristics.

THE TEST track is scheduled to begin operating in 1965, with testing and development of equipment to be carried out during the next several years.

A portion of the financing for the test program is being supplied by the federal government through a $4.9-million demonstration grant.

The test track is a priority project which must be completed before various track installations or vehicles can be tested, transit spokesmen said.

During October a preliminary plan showing right-of-way requirements and utilities was completed and consultants expect to submit a preliminary route location report to the transit district this month.

PRELIMINARY layouts for the yard and shops required for the test track program have been prepared and soil and drainage studies are under way.

Representatives of the district and its consultants met with Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District officials to discuss planning recently, and a Joint Technical Committee has been organized to meet weekly.

Boyles Brothers were awarded a drilling contract for subsurface exploration at the entrance of the Berkeley Hills tunnel and along the tunnel

Committee Recommends 'Total Unification'

Horizontal unification of the Acalanes High School District and its five elementary feeder districts has been proposed by the County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee resolved November 5 to abandon all studies and recommendations on Plan F—a two-district unification plan favored by the elementary districts concerned—and to study total unification of the high school and elementary school area. Elementary school districts concerned are Orinda, Moraga, Canyon, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

Members of the County Augmented Committee were told the decision Tuesday night at the Acalanes High School cafeteria.

THREE augmented committee members rose in turn and stated their opposition to the proposal.

Said J. Gordon Ainsworth, the Orinda board has reaffirmed its opinion that ultimate unification of elementary and high schools of Orinda is desirable, but that it opposes any plan that would not, in its opinion, retain a greater degree of local control of the educational program than can be expected by total unification of the high school district.

Talks About Family Life To Conclude

The concluding session of the Family Life Institute, sponsored by the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, will be held on Friday night at 7:45 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette.

Dr. Roy Fairchild, professor of Christian education at S.F. Theological Seminary and conductor of the Institute, will discuss "Biblical Strategies for Quarreling Creatively."

Specific topics to be included or discussed will be "What do we do when communication breaks down?" "Why must discipline end in a conflict?" "Why do my children always fight?" and "How can we find our way back to each other?"

Decision About Firemen's Fate Delayed Again

A two-hour Monday night meeting between the county civil service commission and county fire commissioners debated the pros and cons of giving the county's 200 firemen civil service status. No decision was reached. Another meeting on the controversial matter will be held Dec. 16.

The fire commissioners are unanimously opposed to the proposition. They maintain that it would be too expensive, that civil service does not meet firemen's needs, and that it would take some authority away from the chiefs.

But Supervisor Thomas J. Coll, who was present along with Board of Supervisors Chairman James P. Kenny, called the present form of fire district government inadequate and chaotic, while Joe Longaker, candidate for supervisor for District 2, said he saw no reason why the firemen haven't already been blanketed into civil service.

"The firemen should pay attention to fires and not political bosses," Longaker said. "They have every right to speak up as citizens and not to be persecuted for doing so."

Attorney John H. Sutter, president of the citizens committee, attacked the plan. He conceded that Mott's district has a special problem in that 3000 acres of its parks in Contra Costa County whose residents use them but pay no taxes to support the district. But "it may set off a chain reaction throughout the Bay Area," he said.

"IN THE LONG run it might not benefit the Alameda County residents who support Mr. Mott's district," he added. "Will San Francisco build a fence around Golden Gate Park and say, 'Oaklanders, pay or keep out?'"

"Certainly the plan will encourage San Francisco to adopt the unsound proposal in the Blythe-Zellerbach Report last year to charge an admission fee at Fleischhaker Zoo."

Sutter emphasized that "parks do not benefit the Alameda County residents who support Mr. Mott's district," he added. "Will San Francisco build a fence around Golden Gate Park and say, 'Oaklanders, pay or keep out?'"

Sheriff Announces Two Staff Openings

Sheriff Walter F. Young announced the existence of four vacancies in the Contra Costa County Sheriff's Department. Vacancies are due to the resignations of John M. Doolan, Lafayette, and Deputy Clifford M. Avery of Concord.

Lafayette has received 7.07 inches of rain to date, and the Oakland Airport 3.92. Last year's records show 8.99 and 8.90 respectively.

Rainfall to date is considerably less than last year, when the October 13 storm accounted for much of the 18.83 inches measured at Orinda. For the same period this year, Orinda has recorded 7.63 inches.

Canyon's representative Larry Williams said while Canyon School District is not categorically opposed to total unification, it wishes to be assured good educational services will be provided. If there is no proof total unification would provide better services, Canyon prefers a smaller district.

Dr. Will Hall, of the Acalanes district, said it unanimously favors horizontal unification.

COUNTY Committee Chairman Dr. Jack Shabbazian said he objected to the reiterated statements the committee is "ramming" horizontal unification down anybody's throat.

The committee has been more than patient, he said, and "no body is ramming anything."

The ultimate decision is with the people, he pointed out, and if the people do not want horizontal unification, the county committee has performed its duty.

On December 10 the committee will hold the second meeting to discuss the horizontal proposal. Shabbazian said a public hearing will probably be held in January.

GIRL FRIDAY—For October the lucky winner is Nina Sparacino of 314 Escobar Street, Martinez, who works in the county social service department. She has worked for the county 25 years and has gardening and relaxing as her chief hobbies. Above, Supervisor James Kenny presents the Girl Friday certificate to Miss Sparacino. Several gift certificates accompany the award.

40,000 Voters Not Registered For Big Elections

More than 40,000 potential voters of Contra Costa County are not registered at this time, County Clerk Walter T. Paasch estimates.

With special school elections, general law cities, county supervisors and the presidential primary elections scheduled for 1964, a heavy registration of voters is expected.

A new registration procedure for persons moving within the county has been established, according to County Clerk W. T. Paasch.

ALL PERSONS who file a change of address card, Form 3575, with the post office and are currently registered in the county, will receive an instruction letter and a postage prepaid return card from the county clerk.

With the return of the card within 30 days, the clerk will correct the address and precinct without the need of re-registration.

SINCE affecting state legislation has just gone into effect it will take care of persons moving after October 1, 1963.

Park Fee Fought

The proposal to charge a fee to non-residents for use of parks was attacked and defended at a meeting of Citizens for Regional Recreation and Parks in the Bay Area recently at a meeting in San Francisco.

William Penn Mott Jr., general manager of the East Bay Regional Park District, who made the proposal, declared, "It is only fair to charge those who use parks without paying taxes to support them."

He proposed a $2 annual fee to be imposed on non-residents entering the regional parks by car.

Attorney John H. Sutter, president of the citizens committee, attacked the plan. He conceded that Mott's district has a special problem in that 3000 acres of its parks in Contra Costa County whose residents use them but pay no taxes to support the district. But "it may set off a chain reaction throughout the Bay Area," he said.

"IN THE LONG run it might not benefit the Alameda County residents who support Mr. Mott's district," he added. "Will San Francisco build a fence around Golden Gate Park and say, 'Oaklanders, pay or keep out?'"

LE DERNIER CRI: DUFFY, the scotty-dog part played by Joe Idelson's mongrel in Dramateur's Sunrise At Campobello, is the last word in putting on the dog.

They've got THIS one wearing a Belly Wig, designed by Robert (hairdresser of Lafayette) to give him the pedigree look (like the great grandpappy of Roosevelt's Fala that he plays).

What's more, we heard they would wire his ears to stand up. (SPCA, are you listening?) . . . But the pooch loves it & is trying to upstage FDR . . .

Even without the crazy canine costuming, see Sunrise. Your whole family will love this Family Roosevelt play.

LOST WORD, not last; Just in case you think YOUR dotter is the only one going around sans socks these cold days, forget it. Except to join our "You Can't Come to School Without Socks" Crusade. It's the latest fad & socks sales are slow . . .

OBJECTS D'ART: Aw, go on, go & blow for that wonderful Italian wall music box at Logan's of Lafayette. Adorably ornate, complete w/cherubs, it's not an antique but a nouveau piece. If there's a new baby in the family, all the better. When you pull the music box chain, like on a cuckoo clock, the tune comes out a tinkly "Rock-a-Bye-Baby."

Also at Logan's: A twinkling array of unusual tiny Italian Christmas lights; flowers, fruits, angels, etc. . . & they last last forever . . .

Object D'SSSS: I WISH I could collect the big bold letters "Adults Only" that were emblazoned on the Orinda theatre marquee recently (for "Irma La Dish"). I'd present 'em to the theatre people & make them eat their own words. Why put up a sign like that if you're still going to sell tickets to any & all kids who have the price of a seat anyway? Parents were more than MAD (both at the movie & the kids) & kids, well, (shrug shoulders here) when they see "For Adults Only," they're only weak & human.

RARE BOOK FIND: Those classic editions on stage, at same SUNRISE play, deserve a closer inspection. If you set your field glasses on 'em, you'll see that the distinguished set of "cardboard classics" (circa 1930s) carry such intriguing titles as "The Uncompleted Works of Carl Rasmussen," "The Life & Loves of Don Rizzo," "Something for the Boys" by Wirtabel Harris & other such dilly-dallies that artist Elaine Jay Lawson printed thereon in a moment of complete abandon with her paintbrush. (Pretty good, though. From your seat you can't tell where the real books & the fakey ones leave off or on.)

GOURMET ITEM: Ever taste a two-hour old hamburger? Ask Sunshine Center's Ted Rosenthal who was THAT busy one day last wk. & couldn't manage a bite of the bun between customers. It's just as well. The hamburger sat there soaking in that potent spray solution & who needs botulism. I feel faint.

What Stork? . . .

DECORATOR'S note: If they ever have an auction up at Tilden Park's Merry-go-round, first dibbles on the Darling Stork (who dat?) w/the angel child painted on its side (side?).

Feeling very Dorothy Drapery this evening (more Drapery than Dorothy, however), we got thinking what a simply sumptuous headboard for Somebody's Bed the topmost part of the Tilden pipe organ facade would make. It would fit a king-sized bed gaaaarrregeously elegant while the lower part of the blue & gold filligree front would be just right for some little girl's dream bed.

Piece De Resistance: Little Girl's reminds us of the vintage youth bed that belongs to one of the girls in the Garbarino household . . . Slender youth bed size, of walnut wood, w/a high carved back. And where did it come from? When the family brought their old house in Inverness it was filled to the attic w/dusty & DARLING antiques.

THE LAST STRAW: If you save something long enough, well . . . What got worn to Sadie Hawkins' Day at Miramonte but an old straw hat (must've been a good one) that I wore "as a girl" on my confirmation day . . . Another antique.

CONVERSATION PIECE: Title Insurance man Jess Long's '62 BelAir Chev, stolen from its Oakland parking spot nr. his office one evening, was found by police stripped & on jacks in West Oakland weeks later. While 3 wheels (brand new tires) were off & missing, something had been added. An illegal parking ticket. Jess, naturally, pleaded "Not Guilty," the cops KNEW it was a stolen car, but he still has to ("that's how the law goes") stand a trial. (Oh, happy, happy date!)

He is a very bewildered gent just about now—not unlike another Orinda couple whose car insurance company cancelled their insurance after they had just received notice that "he" was one of the honor-safety drivers over a long duration of time. The Ins. Co. took it all back when they found out they might have to shell out towards a new car due to an accident our Safe Driver was in through NO fault of his.

EVERYTHING'S getting tooooooo big. Nobody cares BEANS anymore. (Except about the Green Buck.) Frankly, I'm thinking of going back to my mother's system—"Sugar Bowl Banking." Esp. when a big, BIG institution forgets to call back "because it's a toll call."

Bon Mot: From Joe Idelson's new little "Light Touch" mag available all over around Lafayette—"SMILE—The face you'll find may be your own" . . .

PHONE BOOK FINDINGS: The Orinda Blue Pine Tree Service is located in Albany . . . The Pine Grove apartments are on a big city street in San Fran. . . & "Organs Unlimited" in your phone book is NOT a place to replace that weary lung or liver . . .

CINQ SCOOP: I don't know about yoop, but the SatEvePost's Fischer Quintoo Scoop was one of the most wonderful stories I've ever read. It couldn't have happened to Nicer People.

JET AGE NOTE: Two boys on 15-speed bikes were arrested for doing 75 mph through Walnut Creek . . .

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS: The old mustard yellow house by the side of the road out Moraga Highway was once a railroad house early 1900 . . . Can anyone contribute information beyond that?

Across the road, the Danish flag at the 215 Moraga Highway mailbox—a delightful surprise when you're driving along. The house stays w/the Scandinavians. Formerly the Nordquist home, it is now the residence of Court & Olga Nielsen, a Danish couple here 4 yrs. ago . . .

PRIZE PACKAGE . . . The door prize at the Allegro Ball given by the new hairdressing salon at Bret Harte Boardwalk: 52 weeks of Hair Care for some lucky lady & she'd need 52 heads to take advantage of all the permanents & shampoos, etcetera offered.

New Baptist Church To Open in Moraga

The first Sunday school classes and worship service of a new regular Baptist church will be held at the Camino Pablo School in Moraga Sunday.

The Trinity Baptist Church of El Cerrito is sponsoring the new work as a home missionary project. At present there will be morning sessions only. The Sunday school hour will be at 9:45 a.m. and the worship hour at 11 a.m.

David Miller, a member of the sponsoring church, will be preaching and teaching a class. At the time of final organization the church will apply for the fellowship in the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches.

Road Builder Tells Rotary Of Early Days

Harlan Johnson told Orinda Rotary of his experiences as a road building contractor in the mid-West in the 20s and 30s. The noon luncheon meeting was Wednesday at Mike Lynn's.

Johnson, a member of Rotary, related the difficulties of building roads before construction machinery was improved. Guest at the meeting was Fred von Guenther, a Rotarian from Hawaii. Von Guenther is a former Orindan.

Rev. Bennett of the Orinda Lutheran Church will deliver the Thanksgiving Day message next Wednesday. Rotary members and their wives are invited.

Pop, Mom, Pals & Pets

Come next Thursday when Thanksgiving guests arrive at the Jameses, you can bet the couple's four youngsters will be showing off their beloved assortment of pets to all the visiting relatives. Plus the last of their litter of sheltie pups.

This household of animals and winged friends might have started with Mom Esther who is a bird-fancier and raises and breeds a colorful assortment in a home aviary.

AND if a better mouse trap is ever built, it might be the oldest son Tim, 13, who accomplishes it. He designed such a one last week; that is, if you prefer to catch your mice alive and retain them for pets or let them go on their way again.

Tim is the scientific one in the family, has launched hydrogen balloons and rockets and turned out a bevy of beautiful kites in his earlier cub-scouting days. He has studied violin for the past 2½ years and is a member of Orinda Park Swim Team.

A BLACK and white white Dutch rabbit is the charge of Lee, 11, who sailed through "dog-training" obedience classes with the family sheltie in record time to receive special ribbons. What's more, she's already a prize cook and under the aproned tutelage of her mother, well on the way to becoming a skilled homemaker. A Girl Scout, she sings in the choir and plays clarinet.

CUB SCOUT Ken, aged 9, is a guinea pig fancier, a natural-born naturalist, and boasts an enviable butterfly collection, naturally. Closes to him is his brother, Wayne, 8, who is a real rock hound and keeps his room interesting and "alive" with various "collector's items"; lizards, beetles and the like.

RELISHING their somewhat precarious position as parents of such an assortment of progeny, pets and puppies ("we don't know how we'll PART with the last pups!"), Walter and Esther James still manage plenty of time for their own projects at the home they built at the end of El Dorado Lane off Loma Vista Drive.

Into their pre-fab house, they incorporated their own designs and decorations ("we did everything but the electricity and plumbing").

And Easterner Esther, a former art major at Black Mountain College in the North Carolina Smokies region, has skillfully whipped the drapes for the large glass windows. But it's other talents she takes to her weekly meetings as a Den Mother.

BERKELEYAN-born Walt's studies at Stanford were interrupted by war after which he returned to Earlham College in Indiana. He works for the Philadelphia Quartz Company in Berkeley, serves as Cubmaster, a board member of Hacienda Homes, Inc., and is currently a nominee for district 4 on the Orinda Association Board.

CAMPING is the family hobby and you can take it from the experienced Jameses when they report that Glacier Park in Wyoming is the most idyllic of spots to build a fire and pitch a tent.

As for those sheltie puppies, WHAT a Christmas present!

Voting Places Are Designated

Because of many special district elections scheduled for 1964, Contra Costa County expects a heavy registration of voters.

County Clerk Walter T. Paasch has announced that more than 550 deputy registrars located throughout the county are being available to assist potential new voters.

FIELD DEPUTIES in Orinda are June T. Dorsey, 11 La Noria Road; Lora MacRae Hayden, 41 Tara Road; Helen M. McCutcheon, 173 Ivy Drive; Harold V. Manor, 7 Charles Hill Road; Orinda Fire Station No. 1, Avenida del Orinda; Orinda Fire Station No. 2, Moraga Highway and Orchard Road; Orinda Fire Station No. 3, Via Las Cruces; Carolyn L. Stokes, 90 Estates Drive; Marcia J. Zarcharias, 257 La Esplanade.

The field deputy in Canyon is Mildred E. Knipe, P.O. Box 198 Pinehurst Road.

The field deputies in Moraga are: Jean F. Bates, 7 Thune Avenue; Mrs. Florence Pressey Dickson, 10 Camelford Drive; Mildred K. Gunn, 115 Donald Drive; Mrs. Helene Hetfield, Box 57, Moraga; Darlene D. Lowe, 7 Buckingham Drive; Eastern C. C. Co. Fire Protection, 331 Rheeem Boulevard; Helen E. O'Connor, 1391 Rimer Drive; Barbara T. Workinger, 19 Hetfield Place, and Vera V. Warner, 728 Moraga Road.

Orinda Man Leaves On Business Trip

Stanley G. Coppel, 11 Estabueno, Orinda, recently left for a trip to Japan. Coppel, president of Atlas Steamship Agency and Gary Travel, Inc., of San Francisco, is on an around-the-world trip visiting freighting and steamship firms, promoting future business. He will be gone approximately one month.

Lowest Bidder Gets New Bank Building Job

Low bidder for the construction of the Orinda Branch, Bank of America, is the Midstate Construction Co., San Francisco, with a bid of $174,693, it was announced today by A. B. Gilman, vice president for branch operations.

Construction of the new branch will start within the next three weeks, with completion expected next spring. The building will be 82 by 58 feet, set well forward on its lot in the Orinda Village on Orinda Way just east of the U.S. Post Office. Facilities will include 11 streamlined tellers booths, night depository, conference room, a spacious lobby and ample parking, Gilman said.

Demos To Hold Theater Party

The Orinda-Moraga Democratic Club will hold a theatre party tonight. The Dramateurs of Lafayette will present their production of "Sun Rise at Campobello," the play which dramatizes FDR's crippling encounter with polio. Mrs. Carl Weber of Orinda is heading up ticket distribution.

Orinda Motors Is Honored

Jim Hendrickson and Bink McDonald, local Richfield dealers, were given recognition by the Richfield oil firm at a Dealer Club dinner in San Francisco Wednesday evening for their 13 years in the service station business.

During this time, Hendrickson and McDonald estimate that they have dispensed "nearly two million" gallons of motor fuel. They operate Orinda Motors in the village.

Miss Markley Gets Tokyo Assignment

Japan was the destination of Miss Suzanne E. Markley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Markley of Las Vegas Road, as she flew from Washington, D.C., in October to her first overseas assignment at the American Embassy in Tokyo.

Miss Markley is a graduate of Acalanes High School in Lafayette and San Jose State College.

At the time of her appointment to the U.S. Foreign Service Staff she was employed with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Oakland.

Garden Club to Have Decorating Shindig

The Orinda Garden Club will hold its annual Christmas party on Friday, Dec. 6, from 6 to 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Skaggs, 1 Van Tassel Lane, Orinda.

Club president Mrs. Howard Bell and Mr. Bell will greet the guests with the host and hostesses.

The talents of the members will be used in decorating each of the rooms of the home with flowers and holiday decorations.

SAFER IN FIRES

Heavy timbers will withstand fire better than exposed steel beams, according to laboratory tests made under strict controls. Steel buckles while wood merely chars over but stays in place, supporting its full load.

Fire Department Announces Weed Killer Program

The Orinda Fire District urges all residents to start planning their weed abatement and fire-breaks for the 1964 fire season. The district recommends spraying as the most effective and least expensive method of control. By use of that spraying method and the use of a non-contact spray, application must be made during the rainy period of the year.

For further information, contact the Fire Prevention Bureau, Orinda Fire District, 254-4333.

Faithful Navigator To Be Dinner Guest

John L. Sullivan, P.F.N., of Orinda, retiring faithful navigator of Serra General Assembly of the Fourth Degree of the Knights of Columbus, will be a guest at a dinner given in his honor by the assembly in Galen Restaurant in Alameda Sunday night.

FREESIA

One of the fairest of all spring-blooming bulbs (actually it blooms in California before winter is out) is the fragrant freesia. These can still be planted, but should go in post haste, for their dormant period ends earlier than daffodils and their like. Plant freesia in drifts of one color for best effects. And plant plenty of them. They're not expensive in C.A.N. Nurseries.

Hats Off To...

Tevis Thompson--Big Booster for Athletes

A BIG BLOCK "B" please, for Boosters' Club president, Tevis Thompson, himself a former athlete from his crew days at U.C.

Lending moral support to Miramonte's athletes is the main purpose of the Father-Boosters who recently sponsored the awards dinner and used their private treasury to give recognition to the athletes via block letters, trophies and awards.

It is separate from the Booster cards which are sold by the Orinda high school to any parents who wish to donate monies to supplement the school funds used for uniforms and athletic equipment.

Thompson, well known in his community for civic interest, is a past president of Moraga Meadows Improvement Association, a former chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee, an active supporter of the AFS program and has participated in Cubs and Boy Scouting.

TREASURER for Maydewell & Harzell Company (pole line hardware suppliers), Tevis takes time to see as many school games as possible in which son Tevis Jr., a star football and basketball player, participates. (The younger Tevis is also a skilled swimmer.)

The sportsmen in this family live at 20 Hillcrest Drive with Mrs. Thompson (Dinny) and 19-year-old Melinda, who have their own private "booster" club when it comes to Dad and Son. —M.M.

Cover Bulb Beds With Annuals for More Color

There's a trick to gardening for the bulb bed. Try them not with bulbs which many gardeners have yet to discover. And it's so easy, there's no excuse for not trying it, according to the California Association of Nurserymen. We refer to covering your bulb bed with color.

This is accomplished by planting or sowing various annual flowers over the bulbs after you plant them. They will bloom with the bulbs in spring, and long after the bulbs have faded, this colorful cover will continue to show its stuff, helping to detract from the barren bulb foliage while it is ripening and dying back. What could be simpler or more effective?

THERE ARE many wonderful combinations of bulbs and annuals which are both eye catching and practical along the terms outlined above. Consider, for instance, a planting of King Alfred daffodils, their giant yellow trumpets growing up through a cover of white alyssum. How much more effective this would be than simply having the bulbs grow up from bare ground.

We've seen many other good combinations involving daffodils too. King Alfreds growing up through a cover of blue violas; the giant white trumpet daffodils growing up through apricot violas or, believe it or not, through white alyssum.

The white and white combination is really effective. You can plan a new and different display simply by checking the pictures of daffodils and picking the bulb cover to combine with it.

WHEN YOU grow tulips massed in formal beds, a bulb cover is not necessary, but when you grow them less formally in small groups of one color, a cover crop can add greatly to the effect. We would choose the old faithful alyssum, both white and purple, for such use, as well as both violas and pansies.

It is sometimes confusing, but also beautiful when you mix Iceland poppies with tulips. Both are tall, cup-shaped and brightly colored—look alike in a sense but distinctly different.

With a combination of this sort, the Iceland poppies bloom far in advance of the tulips, giving you color in winter and spring both.

FAIRY PRIMROSES, or primulas, are a nice combination with bulbs. With the taller daffodils and tulips especially they make interesting contrasts. We find them especially effective with white trumpet or white and yellow daffodils. You can use any of the fairy primrose's several shades: white, lavender, rose or red.

Violas and pansies as indicated above are excellent covers only with daffodils and tulips. But with hyacinths and wood hyacinths which push up through the blanket of color and add their fragrant heads of white or blue or pink.

There are several bulb bed covers which can simply be scattered from the seed packet. Alyssum is one of these, though most gardeners prefer to buy transplants from their nursery. Virginian stock, linaria, nemesis and nemophila are all easily grown this way, and while none of them is quite so spectacular as the pansies and violas of this world, all are appealing and their mass when broadcast is eye-filling.

SOME OF YOU planted your spring-blooming bulbs a month or more ago, yet there is no reason you can't plant a bulb cover at this time. Take some care in preparing the ground for the cover plants, for you wouldn't want to disturb bulbs already planted.

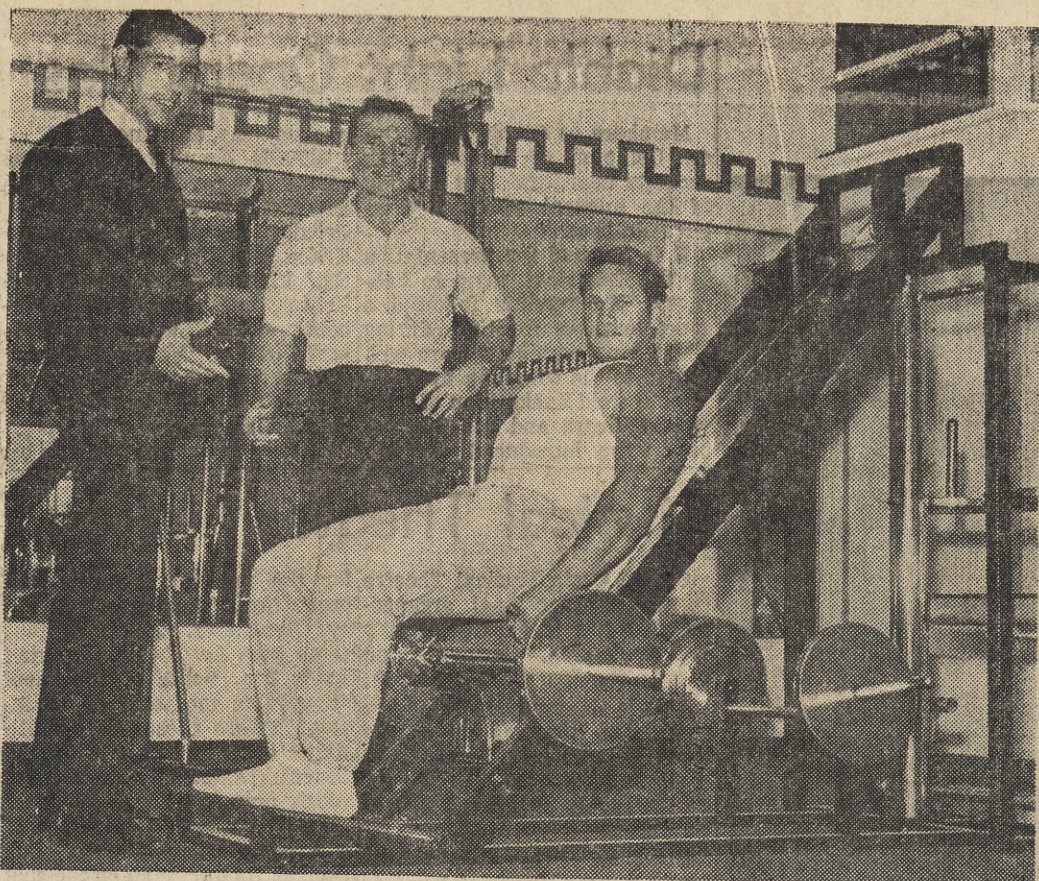

If you haven't planted bulbs yet, there's still time though you shouldn't wait much longer. In this case plant the cover crop the same day you plant the bulbs. The cover will bloom before the bulbs do, but who's to complain? It will still be blooming when the bulbs do show color.

Co-op Group Gets Ready for Bazaar

Margaret Miller, sales coordinator for the Arts and Crafts Guild of Co-Op is stepping up the pressure on her workers for the group's annual Christmas Bazaar to be held December 3 through 7 in the upstairs meeting room at the Co-Op, 1510 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

Only handcrafted items will be offered—all made by local craftsmen. These include pottery, porcelain enamels, molded glassware, leatherwork, woodenwork, sandcastings, holiday decorations and novelties, needlework, clocks and picture frames.

Some of the members participating are Christine Thowson, Frank Guptill, Mrs. Daisy Miller, Gertrude Lehuberger, Ben and Eugenie Kluga and Shirley Mills.

New Health Club To Rack 'em Up

A new health studio, the Apollo Health Club, has opened in Walnut Creek. Located at 2026 North Main Street, it offers individual and family memberships in a month-to-month basis without the signing of contracts.

Owners and operators of the new club are Jimmy Payne, a former Mr. America, and Del Brandstrom, a former mid-west Golden Gloves boxer.

Equipment at the club includes a wide range of active and passive exercising and reducing equipment. There is a steam room, showers and a sun room where three hours of sunshine can be acquired in half-a-minute.

PAYNE entered the physical culture field 22 years ago with Jack LaLanne. He managed the Oakland LaLanne studio. During World War II, he was a U.S. Navy physical instructor.

He has also appeared as a nightclub performer and has had his own television show, "The Mr. and Miss America Club." He has been on the Art Linkletter show, "You asked For It," and many others.

Brandstrom has been associated with gyms either in a sales or management capacity for the past eight years. Winning the Golden Gloves Upper Midwest Middleweight Championship in 1955, he is a former district supervisor for the Vic Tanny company.

The club's studio has been leased from Ed Romley.

WC Woman Is Given Post

Mrs. Marian McAdams, Walnut Creek, is one of three members whose terms were expiring to be returned to the Contra Costa County Committee on School District Organization.

Others elected to the committee last week at Pittsburg are Francis Brady, Rodeo, and Albert Ellis, Pittsburg. All three were named to four year terms.

The committee is an 11 member body charged by the legislature with studying school district organization and recommending unification. Mrs. McAdams was appointed to it a year ago and Ellis, this past July. Brady has served since his appointment in 1957.

New Classes At WC Art Center

Registration is in progress for a life painting class to be taught by Prof. Harry Krell at the Walnut Creek Civic Arts Center on Tuesdays from 8 to 10 p.m. Classes are starting as soon as 10 persons have registered.

Krell is a professor of fine arts at the California College of Arts and Crafts where he has been a faculty member for the past 12 years. He studied at the Munich Academy and University of Frankfurt, Germany, before coming to the United States in 1951.

HE HAS HAD 12 one-man shows including shows at the Palace of the Legion of Honor and the De Young Museum, San Francisco; the Richmond Art Center and the Pioneer Museum and Haggins Galleries in Stockton. He has also participated in the Winter Invitational Exhibitions at the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

Other art classes being offered include Robert Rishell's new painting and drawing classes and Lundy Segriest's creative painting for beginners and advanced students.

Dramateurs 'Sunrise' Is Prime Holiday Offering

By MARIE MONAHAN

The sun rose and set with F.D.R. where the multitudes were concerned. That's exactly how I feel about the Dramateurs whose current ambitious production is a prime holiday offering for the whole and "entire" family.

The production is a Plum—to out-plum all previous Plums—with Don Rizzo's portrayal of the late president, an incredulous and amazing piece of acting.

You'll remember Rizzo as Shylock in "Merchant of Venice." Now the actor, who has a background with the La Jolla Playhouse, turns in an even more fantastic job as the famous man with the famous name.

THERE are times during the play when you wonder at the remarkable resemblance of Rizzo to Roosevelt. Actually, there is no physical facial likeness of stage. But when the house lights go down and the curtain goes up, Rizzo without benefit of much makeup becomes Roosevelt.

Not only in manner, or voice, or the way he wears the white Campobello hat, but as a complete picture of the man our generation remembers so well. As one of Rizzo's colleagues put it: "He sure can work his face!"

The original sets by Elaine Jay Lawson are skillfully designed. The colorings meld with the costumerie and as for the tremendously difficult technical difficulties, there is but one instant where the set appears awkward. And that has probably been adjusted since preview night.

THE HIGHEST compliment we can pay Betty Reynolds, who plays Eleanor during the 1920's and F.D.R.'s polio crisis, is to say that we had to keep reminding ourselves that Eleanor was our long-time neighbor Betty.

She is lively in the part, gaining impetus as the play progresses, but there would be some doubt as to whether the real Eleanor was as brave and bold with her mother-in-law as Betty's voice suggests in several lines of the script that deserve more timidity.

Her costumes of that period during the 1920's are superb and Katie Genesys rates high compliments for overseeing what must have necessitated a heavy crew of fine seamstresses.

Newcomer Tom Martin plays Louis McHenry Howe (The Man behind The Man), like a real Tammany chieftain. And Fran van Loben Sels, however different in stature, is marvelous as the matriarchal Sara Delano. Her costumes as well as her carriage come up with an "A" for Aristocratic bearing and she is very natural in the part of the doting and over-bearing Sara.

One particular scene where an argument ensues between the frustrated invalid Franklin and his dominating mother is highly charged with an emotion familiar to most adults who have ruling parents.

IT'S ALWAYS good to find Harry Rasmussen in the cast of ANY play, despite the absence of the Catholic politico's famous brown derby hat. Harry, with a 20's hair-slick, makes a grand hand-shaking Governor Alfred E. Smith.

French, Marie, the children's governess, is played warmly by Eve Goulding.

THE ROOSEVELT'S daughter Anna is played in true young lady fashion by a long-haired blonde who could double as "Alice In Wonderland." She is Deborah Alexakos of Walnut Creek and teenagers in the audience will be quick to ally themselves with her and the problem of her room being taken over by "that man, Howe." Or that she just wants her parents to have time to talk with her "once in awhile."

Too numerous to mention singly, or do a dramatic-dissection on, are all the other capable members of the cast as well as the tremendous production staff.

But here are the names of others you'll enjoy on stage: Joan Watson as Missy; Wilbur Lawson as Doctor Bennett; Bud Wood as Franklin Calder; Dick Harwood as Senator Walsh and Mr. Brimmer; George Spelvin as Daly; Fred Shadow as Duffy; and veteran Dramateur member Clarence (Bee) Betz launching "very first lines" at the convention finale.

DEMOCRATS, even Republicans, will love this play by Dore Schary who accomplished exactly what he set out to do. In a letter to Mrs. Roosevelt in March 1957, he said, "What I propose to do is tell the story of a man and the people around him who, after an ordeal, emerged strong and triumphant."

In Lafayette, at the Town Hall, the Dramateurs are doing it now, the same way. This is family fare so full houses can be expected. Call for your reserved seats early for Friday and Saturday night performances through Dec. 14.

Portrait Artist to Be At Co-op Anniversary

Are you searching for a really beautiful and extraordinary Christmas gift for someone? Here's an idea: For someone dear to you, a painting of someone else dear to you both.

Katy Madsen, noted Walnut Creek portraitist in traditional style, will do portraits at the 1295 S. Main Co-op, Walnut Creek, next week. The event is part of the center's first anniversary celebration next week and is sponsored by the member relations committee of the local co-op, according to Charles Griffin of Martinez, chairman.

MRS. MADSEN is president of the Diablo Art Association, a member of the Society of Western Artists—and is vice chairman of the northern section of the Artists' Advisory Board to the State Fair Exposition.

She has shown paintings in the society to Western Artists' Annual at the De Young Museum, at the California State Fair art exhibition and has won numerous awards, including a first in oils at the California statewide art show in Santa Cruz.

MRS. MADSEN is also known locally for her adult classes in portraiture in Walnut Creek and she has given portrait demonstrations for art associations in the Bay Area, Sacramento, Fresno, Modesto, Los Gatos and

Diablo Light Opera Has Cast 'Finian's Rainbow'

Members of Diablo Light Opera Company of Walnut Creek recently heard the first reading of the musical comedy, "Finian's Rainbow."

It is planned for presentation by the theatrical group in February. The reading followed a short business meeting, during which new members were welcomed to the company by President Harold Zuckerman of Danville. Officers and board members were introduced and the casting was announced. THOSE having prominent roles in the production are: Finian McLonerger—Phil Stearns, Orinda; Sharon McLonerger—Erlice Corbett, Walnut Creek; Og, the Leprechaun—Boyd Hunter, Lafayette; Woody Mahoney—Jim Sanderson, Oakland; Susan Mahoney—Janice Nelson, Livermore; Senator Billboard R. A. W. Kins—"Doc" Scott, Lafayette.

Lesser parts are taken by Augustus Little and Don Poulton of Oakland; Doris Lawrence and Gerry Rice, Pittsburg; David Acker, Pleasant Hill; Vince Wood, Concord; John Pratt, Lafayette; Harold Zuckerman of Danville; and Clifford Egan, Charles Dorsett, Don Burnham, Norman Daneiko, Walt Dehlinger and David Reid, all from Walnut Creek.

MANY familiar musical numbers are found in the score of "Finian's Rainbow," among them "How Are Things In Glocca Morra?" "Old Devil Moon," "If This Isn't Love," "When I'm Not Near The Girl I Love (I Love The Girl I'm Near!)," and several lively dance numbers are included.

The regular rehearsal schedule of the company is now under way. Additional male Negro singers are still needed and interested persons are urged to contact Mrs. Klitsner at 935-7040.

Musical Theater Makes Final 'Carnival' Plans

Contra Costa Musical Theatre is now making final arrangements, prior to casting for its next production, "Carnival," due to open the first week of March.

This is the popular Broadway production that has set a new trend in musicals. In the past many movies have been based on the highly successful Broadway shows.

However, "Carnival" was based on the successful movie "Lili" which starred Leslie Caron and Mel Ferrer. Another musical, "Here's Love," has just found its way to Broadway via the same route, being based on the nostalgic "Miracle on 34th Street."

AFTER DOING an extremely successful job of choreography for the musical theatre's last production, "Oklahoma," Anthony Gianchetta returns to that same post for the forthcoming production. Some of the most memorable moments of "Oklahoma" were those when the stage came alive with the dances created by this talented young man.

Also back in this familiar spot will be musical director Bob Dunkle. As the "man on the spot when the chips are down," Bob's firm leadership is a real asset to the group.

NEW TO THE group's staff of directors, but a man who has spent many long hours working with the group, is Dr. Jerry Stollar. As a member of the board of directors and ticket chairman for "Oklahoma," Dr. Stollar has worked closely with the group as well as with the previously mentioned directors of dance and music.

With these three talented men at the ropes, "Carnival" is certain to be a most enjoyable production.

CASTING for "Carnival" will be open to the public. Audition dates will be announced soon. A general membership meeting was held Wednesday in the multipurpose room at Meadow Homes School on Detroit Avenue, Concord.

Movies of "Oklahoma" were shown and plans for "Carnival" discussed.

World Group To Join Observance

Plans for local chapter participation in the World Congress of United World Federalists, in conjunction with the 20th anniversary celebration of the founding of the United Nations to be held in San Francisco in 1965, were discussed at a recent meeting of the Orinda-Lafayette chapter.

Dr. Frank Thompson, West Coast field director for the United World Federalists, was the guest speaker at a gathering at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Lininger, Lafayette.

Clair Calhoun, Pleasant Hill, chairman, presided. Irving H. Golder, Berkeley, president of the Northern California branch of U.W.F., presented program suggestions for the local chapter.

Who's Afraid Of Big Bad Bombers

Central county had its own capsule version of "Fail-Safe" at about 2 p.m. November 13 in Lafayette. The ending to the 30-second drama was as much of a shocker as the one in the best-selling novel.

A fireman at the downtown station accidentally kicked off the alert button of the Civil Defense alarm. The "fail-safe" mechanism was set in motion.

THIS MEANT one of two things, according to Will Perry, director of the County Disaster Office. It meant either a red alert or a yellow alert. The red alert means: "Take cover. Bombers overhead."

The yellow alert indicates: "Do not take cover immediately. But prepare to take cover. Keep posted." The red alert is a pulsating sound. It blares steadily for 30 seconds and then drops. The yellow alert is a steady blowing signal.

WITHIN 30 SECONDS, after the alarm was sounded in Lafayette, it was silenced by a special breaker switch which cut the power. So Perry is not certain whether it was a red alert or a yellow alert which sounded. There are many conflicting reports.

Only a hand full of people within hearing distance paused in their routine to check with the fire department. Fire Chief Robert Winkel received a few calls. The county disaster office received six.

The scene here at The Sun was typical. Type-writers kept on clicking. Telephones kept ringing. Small talk... big talk... business as usual.

IS IT BECAUSE we are brave and want to die in the act of performing our duty? Is it because we think that if the bomb's going to drop, it is futile to try to do anything? Is it because we're uninformed? Or thought it was a test?

There are 17 alarms in the central county, with four controlling centers. These centers are in the Central Fire District, Walnut Creek, Orinda, Lafayette and Moraga.

What happened Wednesday in Lafayette, we think, would have happened in any other part of central county.

IF SUCH AN ALARM sounds, it is due to either an accident—or it's the genuine thing. Practice tests are infrequent. They are preceded by such an abundance of publicity that every person in the county should know what's expected, said Perry. About two years ago, there was staged Operation: Alert.

The third button at each of the control centers is for testing. The stations test this once a month, according to Perry. However, the test button sends out continuing sound waves that sound like a "low growl." You are not likely to hear it unless you're standing right under it.

The 10-horsepower, red pulsating alert or the steady yellow alert sound loud and clear. Next time you hear one of these, we suggest you stop whatever you're doing. And do one thing.

TURN ON YOUR RADIO OR TV. Recently, the Civil Defense system switched from the Conalrad system, so any station will do. All radios will broadcast on their normal frequency. Turn on the dial to your TV or radio and you'll get immediate information.

For a given time, the radio station will repeat: "This is a take cover" or "This is an alert."

AND PERRY ADDS: If there is no TV or radio, you can be sure that it is FOR REAL.

Two-Thirds Vote Costs Taxpayer

Is the state's two-thirds majority law costly to Contra Costa taxpayers? There are many instances where a simple majority vote would have expedited necessary bond issues.

Most conspicuous example of this was the Park Bond Issue which was defeated by a narrow margin last year. Three-fifths of the county's voters approved the large land acquisition program. Two-thirds majority was needed.

WHAT IS the result? Property values are constantly going up. If and when the parks program is finally enacted, it will cost the taxpayers a great deal more than it would have if the simple majority rule had carried the bond issue last year.

Another example of additional expense to Mr. Taxpayer was the financing of new county buildings, a few years back. Again, the vote fell short of the necessary two-thirds.

THE COUNTY had to have the buildings constructed under a lease agreement. This was more costly to the taxpayer than financing by bonds.

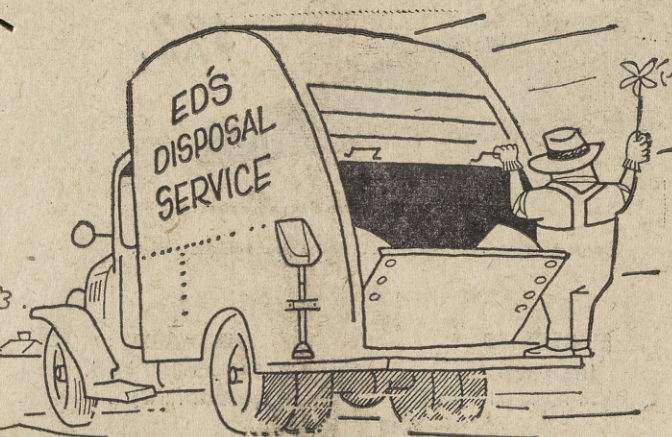

In some areas, school bond issues are defeated. The slowing of educational progress cannot be measured solely in dollars and cents.

There have been numerous efforts in recent years to change California's two-thirds per cent rule. The 84-year-old legislation may well be outmoded.

THIS CONCLUSION is reached in a study of "Local Bond Elections in California" issued recently by the University of California Institute of Governmental Studies in Berkeley.

Taxpayers and public bodies in our county should make their views known to our state legislators so that the matter may again be brought up before the legislature.

Pity the Abused Commuter

By ROBERT KAHN

Someday soon I expect to see a recently retired top engineer in the State Highway Department publish a book entitled "25 Years of Abusing Contra Costa Commuters." Perhaps the sub-title will be "Satisfaction Through Sophisticated Sadism."

I WILL recognize every act described in the book. For over 16 years I have made the round-trip to Oakland better than 6 times a week—that amounts to over 10,000 trips—or over 150,000 miles of driving between Lafayette and the head of Broadway. I know that there are experts who can claim more experience, but as the sergeant said when lecturing the generals on a specialty, I don't see them in this column.

I can remember when the three-lane curve (1 1/2 lanes in each direction) in front of the Lafayette (then called El Nido) was known as suicide curve. It was a "temporary" expedient to widen it to four lanes, but we used it for about six years.

I REMEMBER the traffic signal at the Orinda Crossroads which backed traffic up to the head of Broadway. I can remember when the Lafayette by-pass didn't exist and every back road of Lafayette and some of Walnut Creek were driven at 40 miles an hour by people who had their "secret" route for by-passing the stop light in Lafayette.

THROUGH this entire period I cannot recall a single instance when the persons in charge of the job showed any marked consideration for the commuter. In fact, during those years I never could find out who was in charge!

When I wrote letters of complaint to the Division of Highways they told me that the points complained about were the responsibility of the contractor; and when I wrote to the contractor they told me that they were merely complying with the specifications laid down by the Division of Highways.

THERE have been those "little things" like always cleaning the tunnel on exceptionally hot days, and I would see dozens of women along the hill from Orinda to the tunnel beside abandoned and boiling cars. There was the unnecessarily sharp curves during the past year or so in the Orinda-Tunnel section, which put several people in the hospital and, as I recalled, killed a few others. There was the horrible turn-off arrangement at Upper Happy Valley Road for east-bound traffic that went unmanned for a long period after it was put in.

OF COURSE, the engineers had their cohorts in this plot. There was the year when the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors placed a higher priority on starting the Franklin Canyon Freeway than they did on completion of the Mt. Diablo Freeway.

Then there has been the California Highway Patrol. I have never seen them directing traffic except during periods following heavy rains when they diverted traffic from the tunnel to the Dam Road.

I HAVE seen them give tickets in a 45 m.p.h. zone for 50 m.p.h. when the correct speed limit should have been 55 or 60 (and was subsequently

FAIR HOUSING

EDITOR: Congratulations to Clancy Carille. He hit the nail squarely on the head in his analysis of the Board of Realtors problem. The right to own property is a vital human right which the realtors wish to deny to the non-white.

However, in a free society we white suburbanites cannot justify denial of this right to others on the basis of race or ancestry, or we can only be classified as liars and hypocrites who pay no more than lip service to the principles of equal opportunity for all.

NINE other states have in the last few years adopted fair housing statutes—Alaska, Oregon, Colorado, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania. There have been no reports of social upheaval, housing industry depression or disruption, or other dire consequences from any of those states. In no other state have the realtors attempted anything like a Constitutional Amendment. How tragic it is that they should take this stand in California alone, at the time in the history of our nation when there seemed to be the brightest promise in a century that the Negro would at long last be given his long overdue full citizenship.

Let us not fool ourselves about the battle which will ensue if the realtors succeed in getting this amendment on the ballot. It is an open declaration of war upon the legitimate housing aspirations of at least three million non-white Californians.

No one—least of all minority group persons or civil rights leaders—will be misled in the changed to 55), but I have never seen them direct traffic. For example, would traffic east-bound in the evening flow faster past the Tunnel Road underpass if there was someone to direct it? Of if there was better control at the Orinda on-ramps in the morning?

THERE ARE years of abuse ahead of us. I just dream of the day when our laws will slightest by the high sounding pronouncements about "equal rights and opportunity for all." What the realtors mean is "equal rights for all whites and who cares about anyone else"—all decorated neatly with red, white, and blue trimmings and classy looking American eagles.

HOWEVER, many of us do care. Furthermore, there are some fine, thinking men and women in the real estate industry who are opposed to this amendment. Let us hope and pray that they will all stand up to be counted so we can support them.

MRS. ALAN E. GOODBAN
WALNUT CREEK

INTOLERABLE EDITOR: As another commuter I want to join H. D. Senger in his recent protest that commuting has become intolerable in this area.

You can't penetrate this state's Division of Highway engineers; not even the state commissioners can do that, according to a former commissioner we talked to.

It appears to be a bureaucracy that operates all on its own; and if it doesn't answer to the commissioners, you can be sure it doesn't answer to the Governor. Being civil service, it can't be fired.

A legislative investigation of the Division of Highway engineers should be made to determine how it is that this group of public servants can operate beyond public control. Write your legislators.

CLARENCE E. RUST

require the designing engineer and the head of the Highway Division to drive the commuter route each day, at the peak period, over the construction area. If it was HIS stomach that was being upset, I think he would quickly find ways of improving the traffic flow. But instead, he is just collecting more details for his books.

Where There's a Will--

By BILL FULLER

So you're just a little fellow. You don't like something that is being done. But what can you do about it? After all, you're just a little fellow. You have just one vote. What can you do about telling the state, the nation, even your own community about how things should be done?

ONCE UPON A TIME there was a lady. She had a husband and two children. For reasons best known to her, she decided that the family needed a second car.

It could be a used car. After all, it was going to be used for shopping, perhaps to take the kids to school once in a while. Perhaps, also, to make it easier for her to get to and from her part-time job.

SO SHE WENT out and did what any one of us little people would do. She looked over the used car market. And in so doing she found a honey of a car. Just the thing for what she had in mind. Not being a mere male, she didn't just kick the tires to see if they were inflated. She looked at them closely.

And she didn't like what she saw. Tread—sure they had tread. But they were obviously bald tires that had been regrooved. Cut right down to where there was very little left to protect against stones or "craters" in an otherwise nice smooth highway.

THERE they were, all four of them, looking good but just dying for a chance to prove that they could blow out at the slightest provocation—tossing driver and passengers into a ditch and into injury and perhaps death.

THIS, the lady didn't like. And she said so. She told the man that if he would put decent tires on the car she'd buy it. But the man explained that "regrooved" tires were perfectly legal, that he wasn't going to change them and what could she do about it.

And that's where the man made a mistake.

THE LADY went home and she began to think. "And when a lady thinks, look out!" a poet once said. She got to thinking about how dangerous regrooved tires could be on the open highway. She got to wondering how many "unexplained" accidents were caused by blowouts due to such tires.

She lived in a residential community outside a big city. She only had one vote but she was pretty angry at what the man said. So what could she do about it?

TO MAKE A LONG story short—she checked the American Automobile Association in her area and it agreed with her and promised her its support. Then she got to the local women's club. The members agreed with her and took it to the state federation, who also agreed. With these groups backing her she went to her local state assemblyman, and he agreed with her.

He agreed so much that he introduced and backed a bill in the state legislature banning the regrooving of bald tires. The lady used her own time and money to go to the state capitol to testify before hearings on the bill.

A TAXI COMPANY and a large tire firm attempted to effect a compromise by amending the bill so that regrooved tires could be used if they were so labeled.

Good used tires—si. Regrooved tires no. And, by golly she made it stick. Just a little over a month ago the governor of the state involved signed the bill prohibiting the use of regrooved tires into law. And it's a good, tight law. And now the lady is wondering about going after the problem on a national basis.

LEST you think all of this is not a fable—let me tell you it is not. The lady involved is Mrs. John Melsha and she lives in New Berlin, Wisconsin, just outside of Milwaukee.

So it can be done. One person with an idea against public apathy, against "interested" parties, against the natural inertia of a legislative body.

AND APPARENTLY, the public liked her fight. She's heard from people all over the country. A man from Michigan has asked her to fight the practice of regrooving tires in his state. A man from Kansas wrote

"You have shown that precious ingredient, the ability to get things done in the face of seemingly overwhelming odds. I'll wager that the next person tempted to say to you 'there is nothing to be done about it,' will think twice."

So, you see, it can be done.

Under The Sun Come Along to Magicland --- Magic Was Missing

By ELEANOR SILVERMAN

"Disneyland, U.S.A. You are now entering the wonderful magic land of Disneyland," came over the loud speaker as the Silverman five entered the gate last Saturday.

For years, Disneyland has been a magic world for the Silvermans.

"WHY TAKE a trip to Europe when you have the Swiss Matterhorn right in Disneyland? Why explore America's great West when you have Frontierland right in Southern California?"

As I recall, our impressions of Europe were that it was a lot like Disneyland only a little bigger. And when we went to the pseudo-Disneyland in Nara, Japan, on the Sun Orient Tour, we commented that the Japanese could copy but just couldn't capture the magic of Disneyland.

Second time around

This second trip to Disneyland, our "Sun Disneyland Tour for Five," proved to be a rude awakening.

We found that magic is magic, and only magic in the eyes of the beholder.

YES, IT WAS all there in glorious color. The Monorail ride is an exciting experience and certainly shows definitely that this would not be the answer to solve commute traffic problems.

The Submarine trip is certainly unbelievably enchanting with its mermaids and its buried treasure. And the bobsled ride down the Matterhorn is scary enough for the most daring. The steamer voyage past the Indian camps and Tom Sawyer's Island was relaxing and fascinating.

What had happened?

Why were we disappointed then?

Because we had let our imagination run wild since our previous trip about five years ago.

WE CAN HARDLY wait to return to Disneyland on our next trip to Southern California, and enjoy the adventure for what it really is—a fabulous entertainment park.

Perhaps then we won't be looking intently for magic—and we will then find it.

A BLAST AT BALDWIN

EDITOR: Congressman John Baldwin, as might be expected, again does not agree with the Kennedy Administration. He states many of his constituents are opposed to sale of wheat to Russia or other Communist countries.

The president stated that the proposed sale of wheat to the Russians did not change our policy—it is being treated like any other customer in the world market. It demonstrated the U.S. willingness to help countries in short supplies of foodstuffs and relieve world tensions.

The wheat sale would benefit other sectors of the U.S. economy besides the wheat farmers. Yes, Mr. Baldwin, even our own shipping from San Francisco Harbor.

Congressman Baldwin, you are concerned with our balance of payments, our gold reserve and fiscal security. Don't you think it would help us secure 300 million in gold for wheat that costs us 200 million a year just to store?

What's wrong with our wheat traders selling in the world market competition with our allies, Canada and Australia?

It would be interesting to know, Mr. Baldwin, who were the constituents who objected to this sale.

Perhaps—here again Mr. Baldwin is trying to build a political image for the next campaign.

FLOOD CONTROL

EDITOR:

1. For more than fifteen years we have seen "Central Contra Costa County" transformed from agricultural land to residential.

2. Developers have been allowed to build homes in the various lowlands in the valley, without any appreciable safeguards against periodicity flood water. These homes are sold to people who are not familiar with the hazardous conditions that they may be exposed to.

3. Every new building, and street that is surfaced is in reality creating another water shed. The natural direction of the run-off of the flood water is into the "Bay to the north of us."

4. There are thousands of acres of marsh land to the north of Concord, that could be implemented into the development of a reservoir by building levees creating a lake to contain the flood water runoff. With spillways to release the surplus water as needed to maintain the proper lake level.

lake could be developed into a recreation region, with facilities for various outdoor and indoor activities, for all our citizens to enjoy. And a refuge for wild life.

6. May I respectfully suggest that with the joint cooperation of the Federal Government, state government, and the county engineers, I feel that this project can be economically achieved, and eliminate our flood problems.

ARTHUR OTTO BRAGG,
Walnut Creek.

The Contra Costa Dental Society is to be congratulated for sponsoring sugar-free fund raising ideas.

For years I have not bought the Scout cookies, just gave the boys a money gift instead, because one simply doesn't eat those sugar-loaded things.

I have wondered why doesn't some responsible person or organization undertake to teach these children to sell some healthful item.

So orchids to our Dental Society.

A new bumper strip is being seen in our area. It states simply "We Shall Overcome." I think many people do not know what it means. This is the title of the stirring old hymn that has become the theme of the Negro Movement in the South.

Perhaps some people feel that "we" should only be a Negro "we," but it's a struggle that belongs to all of us and I am proud to consider myself part of that "we."

A small black button with a white "equals" sign may also be seen on the lapels of those fortunate to have been able to secure them. It speaks for itself.

ANTIQUE AND GIFT BAZAAR—Admiring Christmas decorations to be sold at the coming Therapy Thrift

Thrift Shop Antique And Gift Bazaar

By far the largest undertaking of the year for the Therapy Thrift Shop, 1602 N. Main Street, Walnut Creek, is the annual Antiques and Christmas gift sale which will begin the week of Dec. 3.

Mrs. Paul Nave and Mrs. Frank Marshall are in charge. All members of Linnet Unit of the Diablo Therapy Center will assist them.

This year a walnut bed and a leather trunk will be among the antique and modern selections. Patrons await the event, which grows larger and better each year.

The Thrift Shop is now featuring suits, coats and jackets for men and women. Christmas cards will be available.

Hours are 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, and 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Women's Group To See Playlet

After the monthly luncheon for the Women's Club of Walnut Creek to be held Tuesday at 12:30 p.m., the Dramatists will present a playlet, "Mrs. McThing," by Mary Chase. Mrs. Tish Winkworth will narrate.

According to Mrs. Fred Sam, program chairman, reservations for the luncheon may be made by members before Saturday only through Mmes. Melvin Jory Jr., Roy E. Coats, or H. H. Harmon.

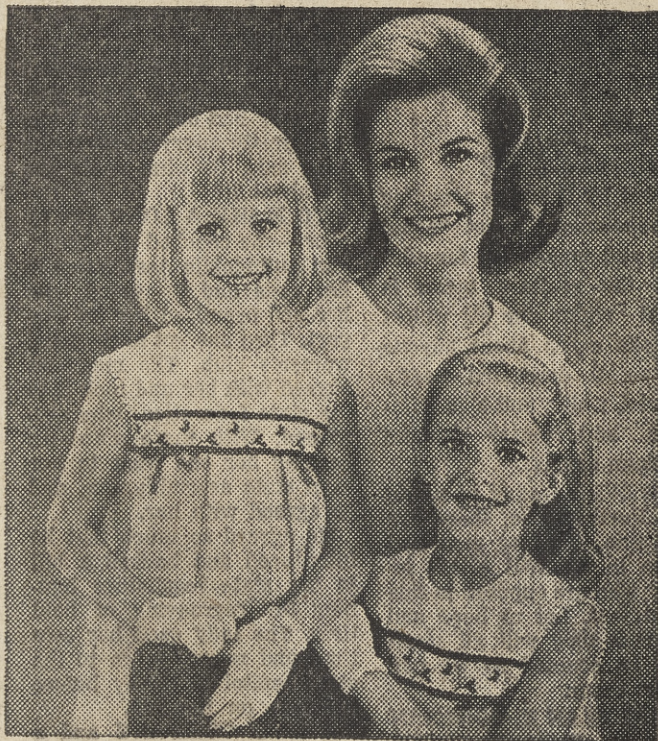

Mrs. George Fox, president, will preside over the program. Two new club members will be introduced to the membership—Mrs. Harold J. Tice of Pleasant Hill, and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Doris Larson, mental health chairman, has announced that all gifts for the patients of the Napa Hospital should be brought to this luncheon or the Christmas tea. Presents are not to be gift wrapped.

Wadleigh's Celebrate New Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Wadleigh hosted approximately 50 guests at their home on Judith Lane in Lafayette Saturday afternoon to introduce their new daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas G. Furgason (Patricia Lynn Barnes).

Sharing in the afternoon's introductions were Patricia's aunt, Miss Anna Barnes, and her brother, John Timothy Barnes, both of Beaver Dam and Owensboro, Kentucky.

Patricia and Thom, who met while they were psychology students at the University of Vienna, Austria, were married in Owensboro, Kentucky, in July.

They recently returned from an extended honeymoon which took them to Mexico, British Honduras and Guatemala. The young couple are making their home in Berkeley.

Mr. Furgason is a rehabilitation counselor at the Richmond Rehabilitation Workshop and Patricia is an educational counselor on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Hundreds Wine, Dine At Reception

Four generations of native Californians were present at the recent wedding ceremony when Dianne Marie Buror became the happy bride of Norman Lee Wood.

Dianne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Buror, reside at 978 Condit Road in Lafayette. Norman's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Clarion T. Wood, live in Walnut Creek.

The Rev. William S. Stoddard officiated at the late afternoon ceremony at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

Wearing a silk bambazine gown with a detachable Watteau train and long pointed sleeves, Sharon happily accepted her ring. On her head, she wore a tiny cap of pearl edged peau de soie petals and Swiss lace to hold a butterfly veil of English silk illusion. Her spray shaped bouquet was of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Patricia Buror, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Dona Cave of Lafayette, Dianne LaField, and Sandra Buror, the bride's cousin, Donna Wylie, another cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

David J. Marquardt served as best man. Ushers included George Smith, Winfield (Scotty) Scott, Robin Hobbs, Richard Kelley, and Russell Rountree.

Among the out-of-town guests was the bride's great grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Burk, 91, of San Jose. Mrs.

Burk is the mother of the bride's maternal grandfather, Dr. R. V. Burk, Walnut Creek dentist. With the bride's mother this made a total of four generations of native Californians at the occasion.

The reception for 400 guests provided a buffet supper at the Walnut Creek Elk's Club. Later the couple left for a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii.

Dianne graduated from Acalanes High School in June. Norman received a diploma from Las Lomas High School in 1959 and attended Diablo Valley College for two years. Now he is employed by the Pacific Telephone Company.

The newlyweds are living in an apartment in Walnut Creek.

Suzanne Solomon Says Solemn Wedding Vows

Suzanne Lee Solomon of Orinda recently became the happy wife of Don Eldon Nelson at a lovely ceremony at Orinda Community Church.

Russell L. Solomon, 217 Glorietta Boulevard, gave his daughter away, while Mrs. Solomon sat in the pews and watched.

The Rev. Chauncey Blossom officiated. Standing before him, Suzanne wore a princess style gown trimmed with lace applique at the neckline. The bride carried a crescent shaped spray of white roses and lily of the valley.

Maid of honor was Lynn Solomon, Suzanne's sister. Madelyn Sears and Marie Perez served as bridesmaids. Robert Wicks, the groom's brother-in-law from Walnut Creek, took the place of best man. Robert Coslett and Larry Zeidler were ushers.

After the ceremony, the reception was held at Mike Lynn's Restaurant in Orinda. Later the couple left for a honeymoon in Carmel and Yosemite.

Suzanne attended Miramonte High School and San Jose State College. Don studied at the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology.

They plan to reside in Los Angeles, where the groom lives.

Deb's Dates Told

Four deb's from this side of the tunnel look forward to December 23, the night of the Winter Ball, when they will officially curtsy to society.

In the ballroom of the Hotel Claremont, the lovely young girls will celebrate the gala affair with their handsome escorts, who already are "dated up" for the occasion.

Sandra Lund of Lafayette has asked Frank Thomas Malley III to be her escort for the night.

Frank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas Malley II, reside in Happy Valley. He attends Stanford University, that grand old institution in Palo Alto.

Sandra is the daughter of Mrs. Lyle Lund, 781 Old Jones Hill Road. A graduate of Acalanes High School, Sandra attends the University of Denver.

John Randall Martin, another Stanford man, has been asked to escort Clarinda Telfer of Orinda. John is the son of Mrs. Edward Martin, 8 El Sereno Road, Orinda.

Clarinda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Telfer, 2 Oak Arbor Road, an alumna of Miramonte, she attends Washington State University at Pullman.

Suzanne Harrer has invited Frederick (Fritz) Hunt Henshaw to be her date. The son of Mrs. Robert Stow Henshaw of Oakland, Fritz attends the University of California.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Harrer, 7 Oaks Circle, Orinda. A graduate of Anna Head, she attends Santa Rosa Junior College.

Sandy (Edward) Cutler has been signed up as Caren Haukerken's escort for the evening. He is the son of Mrs. Barbara Cutler of Orinda and attends Chico State College.

Caren is the daughter of Mrs. George H. Haukerken, 15 Vida Descansada. A Miramonte High School graduate, she attends Chapman College in Orange County.

Holiday Prelude Ball

Silver and blue trumpets and horns will herald the start of the yuletide season at the Prelude Ball to be hosted by Santa Maria Women's Guild at the Orinda Country Club next Saturday.

At the Orinda home of Mrs. C. E. Toland Jr. (right), publicity chairman, Mrs. Richard T. Gemmill (center), reservations chairman, and Mrs.

James Dickow (left), ball chairman, meet to discuss final plans and preparations for the grand affair. Blake Toland seems to have other matters to attend to.

The guild's favorite semi-formal affair will follow previous patterns; a cocktail hour to precede the dinner hour of 7:30-8:30 after which there will be dancing until 1 a.m. to the music of Maury Wolohan's orchestra.

Tickets at $15 per couple may be purchased by phone reservations to one of the ticket co-chairmen, Mrs. Gemmill or Mrs. John Ruen. Mrs. Dickow adds "the sooner the better" for reservations as they are going fast.

Newcomers Plan Midnight Fling

"Pre-Season Reason for Eating and Greeting" is the unusual name chosen by the Moraga Newcomers for their midnight buffet and dance to be held tomorrow at Carroll Country Club.

Mrs. Richard Swan is the hard working chairman of the event. Her committee includes the Mmes. Kenneth Bailey, Charles Tolhurst, Arthur Frank, Melvin Williams, Arthur Stromberg, and Aubrey Berry.

Stephanie Girard Sees Skidmore President

Romance began in high school.

Sharon Clark Becomes Mrs. Gordon N. Ball

Schoolmates Sharon Clark and Gordon Ball recently became man and wife at a beautiful wedding ceremony in the San Ramon Valley Methodist Church.

Sharon is the daughter of Mrs. Paul Romak Sr. and the late Curtice E. Clark of San Francisco. Paul Romak Sr. gave her away, while the Rev. Floyd E. Tuffs officiated.

Gordon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Ball, reside in Danville, the bride's home town.

Wearing a white antique satin gown, Sharon looked lovely. A satin Dior rose decorated with pearls held her silk illusion elbow length veil in place. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Jay Bennett Jr. served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Dennis Ball, Mrs. James Syar, Marsha Ball, Nancy Veitch and Gail Parker.

The groom's brother, Dennis Ball, was best man. Ushers included Kirk Ashford, Richard Anderson, Stephen Ball, James Syar and Michael Towle.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Orinda Country Club. White crystal butterflies were nestled in the many flowering magnolia trees and bouquets for the occasion. Later the couple left for a honeymoon in Carmel.

The bride and groom graduated from San Ramon Valley High School. Sharon received a degree from Stephens College in Missouri. Gordon attended Menlo College and served with the United States Marine Corps.

The couple plans to live in Ukiah.

LAFAYETTE NATIVES—Mr. and Mrs. Clark Carter of Lafayette recently sailed west on board the SS Matsonia bound for Honolulu. CHRISTIAN WOMEN — Before the first supper, members of the Christian Women's Club of Orinda-Lafayette met at The Lafayette to complete plans for the occasion. They are (from left) Mrs. George Latter, Mrs. Harold Latter, Mrs. Morris Bergesen, and Mrs. James Halbert.

Christians Hold Feast--First Supper

The newly formed Christian Women's Club of Orinda and Lafayette, enjoyed their first dinner for couples Monday at the Lafayette Restaurant.

All the ladies particularly liked a change in their usual program of monthly luncheons for women only. Husbands relished the opportunity to hear Don Rood, the Christian sponsor for the Giants' baseball stars, Felipe Alou and Jose Pagan.

For the ladies, there was a showing of holiday furs and gowns by "Hazel's Exclusives" of Lafayette. Music for all was provided by singer John Engstrom.

Zeta Zeta's Wine and Dine

Reports from chairmen of three key committees comprised the program at the recent dinner meeting of Zeta Zeta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, women's international educational honor society. The reports emphasized the year's theme of understanding changing cultures in American society. Members present were urged to examine their own attitudes, to keep better informed, to help all teachers, and to use a scientific approach to teacher problems by use of research.

Those reporting, were Kathryn Taylor, personal growth and services; Blanche Wehe, research, and Rosalie Clover, professional affairs.

Nancy Peach To Wed

Captain and Mrs. William T. Peach, III, of 10 Roberts Court in Moraga look forward to the wedding of their daughter, Nancy Gayle Peach, and Loren Richard Ceder.

Recently the engagement of the couple was announced. The wedding is planned for December 23 in the Navy Chapel on Treasure Island.

Nancy attended high school in Coronado and Athens, Ga. Now she is a senior in the school of nursing at Duke University, Durham, N.C. Loren, whose parents live in Washington, graduated from the University of Washington and the Navy Supply Corps School in Athens.

Home Economist To Discuss Job

Mrs. Kay Murphy O'Flynn, home economist for J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency, will address members of Diablo Branch of the American Home Economics Association. They will meet Monday at 10 a.m. at the Co-Op, 1510 Geary Road, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. O'Flynn will discuss the diversity of careers within the field of Home Economics, according to Mrs. Phillip Sinnott, program chairman.

In keeping with the hospitality theme of "U.N. Favorites," Greek refreshments will be prepared and served by Mrs. Melvin Wingrove and Mrs. William Maxwell.

Mrs. Harry Morrison Jr., president of the organization, extends an invitation to the meeting to all graduate home economists in the central county.

White Satin Gown for Linda Green

Linda Virginia Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Green of 136 Mazie Drive, Pleasant Hill, recently became the bride of Donal James Connelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Connelly of 1336 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, at the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church in Pleasant Hill.

The Reverend Robert Williams of Grace Presbyterian Church in Walnut Creek officiated at the 3 p.m. ceremony.

The bride's floor length white satin gown was designed with a lace panel of French imported hand clipped lace, long lace sleeves and a lace applique bodice trimmed with sequins, rhinestones and pearls. The low back was fashioned with a large rose of white satin creating a bustle effect. Her veil was held by a rose of satin trimmed with rhinestones and lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white stephanotis.

Mrs. Ron Miller of Walnut Creek was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Connelly, sister of the groom; Teresa Green, sister of the bride; Gail Smith, Rosemary Little and Maryann Gutendorf.

Donal was attended by Doug Prull of Oakland as best man. Usher duties were performed by Jim Rushton, a cousin of the bridegroom; Robert Lucas, Jon Benson, Dan Rose and Dave Gray.

Candlelighters were the twin cousins of the bride, Debra and Sherry Cossey.

Cindy Cossey was flower girl. She carried a parasol basket with red and white carnations. Ring bearer was Carl Cossey who carried a white satin pillow trimmed with red, Cindy and Carl are cousins of the bride.

Miss Lynda Pengra of Danville was vocalist. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Cook as organist.

The reception was held at the church social hall.

Linda is a graduate of College Park High School in Pleasant Hill with the class of June, 1963, where she was a member of the drill team and Medical Club. She is past honored queen of Job's Daughters Bethel No. 238 of Walnut Creek.

A graduate of Las Lomas High School in 1959, Donal attended Diablo Valley College as a business administration major. He is past master counselor of Las Trampas Chapter, Order of DeMolay in Walnut Creek.

For their honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a blue silk print sheath with a gold duster trimmed with mink.

A junior women's club is primarily a philanthropic organization devoted to service at a local, state, national and international level.

Santa Sales On Way

Mrs. Warren Danforth, president of the Lafayette Women's Club, announces that the club's annual Santa Sales directed by Mrs. Charles E. Grant, will be held December 3 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Legion Hall on Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

Among the offerings in the holiday motif will be: dazzling decorations, nature's decorations, hand sewn articles and homemade food provided by the following members and their committees: Miss Margaret Miller, the Mmes. Barton Bacon, James Lloyd, and Walter Meyer. Mrs. A. C. Hammond and Mrs. F. T. Howesworth will have a fun grab bag and hat bar.

A turkey sandwich lunch will be served at noon by Mrs. Harold Mutnick and her committee, while a strolling trio entertains the guests.

Linda Drake Is Engaged

A miniature engagement ring hanging from a manzanita tree encircled the announcement on the cards telling of the recent engagement of Linda Lee Drake of Lafayette and Gerald Francis Brown of LaGrande, Oregon.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Drake, 3401 Sweet Drive, Lafayette. Currently she lives in Portland. After graduating from Acalanes High School, the bride-elect attended Multnomah School of the Bible in Portland. Now she is employed in the yellow pages department of the telephone company.

Gerald (Jerry) graduated from Multnomah School in 1961 and will receive a diploma from Eastern Oregon College in 1964. He plans to teach school in the Portland area.

The engagement was announced at an open house party at the home of Linda's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Miller, in Portland. The couple plans a late March ceremony.

Mayten and Walnut Win Tea Honors

While individual booths designed by branches of Children's Hospital of the East Bay were singled out for blue ribbon awards, exhibit tea itself recently merited top honors at the Claremont Hotel.

A more than capacity crowd found easy access in the new location of the Garden Room to the scores of colorful displays of handmade items offered for sale at the daylong benefit. They were the result of a year's handiwork among hospital branch members.

Walnut and Mayten Branches won the coveted blue ribbons for booth decorations.

White manzanita branches sparkled with twinkling lights and pillbottle and pine cone ornaments atop Walnut's country store where salesgirls wore bandana-type aprons to sell their ten Christmas items. At Mayten's booth, a gold cloth was the foil for manzanita branches on which were hung button bracelets. Other wares were Danish calendars, pot-holders and "nuts and bolts" hors d'oeuvres.

Runners-up in second place were Poplar Branch which sold out of gold and silver cardboard angels and holiday-decorated elastic package ties early in the day.

Mrs. Donald Ellis of Hilltop, coordinating chairman of Exhibit Tea, participated in the final judging of the displays.

Tea was served from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Pavilion Room where pounds and pounds of cookies made by Mayten members were served from a table centered with arrangements of dried wheat, grapes and button and spider chrysanthemums.

Hile-O'Neill Home Nuptials

In an early afternoon ceremony held in her parents' home, Patricia Ann O'Neill recently became the bride of Robert Frank Hile (Frank), son of the Frank Hiles of Walnut Creek.

The Rev. Barry of the Lafayette Community Church performed the rite at 850 McEllen Way, Lafayette, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. O'Neill.

Patricia Ann (Patty) wore a pale pink, street length dress with matching shoes. She carried a white Bible decorated with white orchids. White gladioli and stock were gorgeously draped over the fireplace.

The bride's sister, Kathleen, served as maid of honor. Jeffrey Rise of Lafayette was best man.

After the ceremony, the reception took place in the O'Neill home. Traditional refreshments—champagne, wedding cake and hors d'oeuvres—were served. Later the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Carmel.

In 1961 both graduated from Acalanes High School. Both attended Diablo Valley College. Patricia studied at the University of Hawaii summer session in 1962. After she returned, Patricia worked for a year in Oakland before the marriage.

... By Hec!

Last week, with Tom Strain, former Acalanes great at the controls, the University of Pacific snapped a losing streak that appeared destined to go on into infinity.

Strain, to the surprise of none of the grid fans that observed his play at Acalanes and Diablo Valley, hit on 13 of 18 pass attempts.

This marked the first time this season the former Don has had an adequate chance to display his more than adequate talents as a passer.

Ironie it should come on John Rhode Night.

If a few of our hunting fraternity appear somewhat shaken, maybe this account of the doings at the United Sportsmen's Turkey Shoot last week can help explain things.

On Sunday the Turkey Shoot at the United Sportsmen's range located on Arnold Industrial Highway in Concord was under way in full swing.

Nearly two hundred shooters were using all available facilities. These include a skeet range, a range for high powered rifles, a small bore range and a range with a moving deer target that is towed back and forth on a track.

Suddenly the din created by the small army gave way to complete and astounded silence.

A LIVE DEER, a forked buck, had somehow cleared the six-foot barbed wire fence of the Naval Ammunition depot, loped through the Sunday traffic on Arnold Industrial Highway, and now disdainful of the army of shooters, pranced across their field of fire. With only a brief look of contempt, the buck scaled the steep hill back of the club, and disappeared, his coming and going a complete mystery.

To the everlasting credit of the sportsmanship of the United Sportsmen, not a shot was fired at the lone buck.

However, there are those that attribute it more to their everlasting amazement!

Although Brian Nissen, All-FAL fullback from Las Lomas, is better known for his football exploits, this was not the case in his native Minnesota.

Nissen, growing up in the land of ski "yumpers," developed into one of the outstanding junior ski jumpers in the country prior to heading for this land of honey and milk.

Sidelined last year by lack of competition, Nissen's jumping ability was not widely recognized locally.

However, this is to be changed Saturday when Nissen will be seen jumping in a meet conducted recently at Chavez Ravine in Los Angeles and filmed for later showing on the show, "Wide World of Sports."

THE SHOW will be seen on Channel Seven starting at 5 p.m.

Nissen placed fifth in the open competition with a best leap of 149 feet. The winning distance was 167 feet.

The National Junior Jumping Championships are slated for the Squaw Valley hill later this season, and Nissen will be on hand to shoot for top place.

Ski notes—Snows earlier in the week should open additional skiing to go with that afforded by Heavenly Valley, Squaw Valley and Shasta.

Heavenly Valley hosted over 1000 skiers last week. However, most resorts are playing it by ear, and it would be well to check before taking off for your favorite ski spa.

Pick Up Those Birds, And Try A Cootburger!

By GEORGE R. WHITE

Don's Bait Shop—Clear Lake Highlands—those that are fishermen are getting the black bass, the lure? You name it and you can get 'em . . . cats and crappies are still holdin' their own and doin' O.K. . . . if you're going up take your shotgun along, you may be able to get a few ducks . . . and while I'm at it, the word has gotten around that some duck shooters are killing the coot and leaving 'em lay—w-e-l-l the game warden wants you kind of guys.

It's against the law to kill anything and leave it lay without retrieving it. Besides coots are good to eat and you can shoot 25 a day!

Long's Bait Shop—San Pablo—not much to say about luresides, however you can nail him on bait and bullheads up around buoys 8 and 10 up by Rodeo.

I would like to inject a word or two about these so called hunters that belong to our clan, but are really the bad apples in the barrel. These guys that go around shooting game and fowl, especially coot and let 'em lay are committing a serious crime against us. And that is WASTE. Coots are good eating, as I will relate.

Admittedly this is the land of plenty, but remember this is no excuse to waste what we have. Many of you oldsters can well remember the depression years. Why not take a hint. Also guys that do this type of shooting only make it hard for others to get a place to hunt.

The land and waterfront owner doesn't like to have a lot of dead game lying around stinking up the area.

AND JUST to prove to you that coots are O.K. to eat here's a recipe to use: Take the meat from the breast and thighs of the bird. Then go to the butcher shop and have your wife get the proper proportions of beef and suet to grind. Take the beef, suet and coot meat and put this all through the home grinder, maybe with some onions added and seasoning to taste. Make patties of the ground meat, put on the griddle and fry.

If you would like more recipes on this little bird go to your nearest rod and gun club, they'll only too happy to assist, in fact watch out, they might stay for a feast. The coot is strictly a vegetarian!

Reports have it that this coming pheasant season, which opens Nov. 23 should be a banner year. All my spies have it that the birds are plentiful in the valleys and rice bowl.

In fact the only poor areas are Siskiyou, Modoc and Lassen counties. Now this leaves a lot if room to chase Johnny Ringneck. One thing to remember is that a lot of pheasant land is privately owned. So ask permission before you hunt. Your license gives you permission to hunt, not trespass on land without permission.

The youngster and myself will be up pheasant hunting over the weekend, and we hope to get our limit. In fact we should get our limit on opening day, and then Sunday we got a trick up our sleeves. This stunt we've seen work.

The birds will be running on the second day. So in order to get them up after the initial barrage we will have a rope about 25 ft. between us. On this rope will be small cords with tin cans and lids attached. We'll spread out about 20 feet and then proceed abreast down the stubble.

Any birds that try to go between us will come upon the rope we're dragging and thusly fly. That way we can get our birds a bit easier. Clever, eh what!—watch your target and what's behind it. No tags are issued for 6 foot two legged pheasants.

Rams Lose 10-7 To Antioch in Season Finale

A field goal by Ron Miller of Antioch with but 90 seconds left on the clock enabled the Panthers to edge the tough luck Pleasant Hill Rams, 10-7, in a contest played last Friday evening in Paper Town.

Indulging in still another of the "cliff hangers" that have characterized their season, the Rams concluded what has been a trying season.

After the tide of battle had surged back and forth several times during the first half, Dotson of the Rams fielded a punt on the Panther 40 and rolled back to the 16 yard line.

Pleasant Hill moved for a first down on the four, Dotson passing to Pete Caruso. Garry Garren then banged in for the score from the two yard line. John Meally's kick split the uprights to give the Rams a 7-0 bulge at the intermission.

After having had the door slammed in their face at the Rams' goal on several occasions, Antioch finally put together a 28 yard march. Bill Carroll boomed in for the score from the four. Miller's PAT knotted the score at 7-7 early in the fourth quarter.

Mounting another march in the closing seconds, Antioch elected to go with Miller's toe. The field goal from the 14 yard line at a slight angle was good for the big three points.

Dotson almost salvaged a Ram win, being hauled down by the last tackler between him and the goal at the 50 yard line on the subsequent kickoff return.

Dotson's passes moved the ball to the 20 yard line and the gun sounded to end the game.

The loss rung down the curtain on the season. During the year, the Rams' won loss record was not impressive, but just as in the finale, they lost several closely played games against favored opponents.

Falcons CCD Cage Threats

With the opening of the practice schedule less than two weeks hence, the cage squads of the Contra Costa Division of the DVAL, are hard at work preparing for the forthcoming season.

Pittsburg is generally acclaimed as the top contender to again win the CCD crown. The Pirates are defending champions, and are blessed with a liberal sprinkling of returning veterans.

Mt. Diablo, with its entire first five from last year's cage wars intact, is tabbed as one of the top contenders.

COLLEGE PARK, third place finisher in the 1963 race, will be one of the top claimants for the crown.

Pleasant Hill, Antioch, Pacifica and Ygnacio Valley will all battle for the "dark horse" role, but at this writing, none of this group appears to be in a position to seriously challenge for the number one position.

Four first-stringers return for the College Park Falcons. This group includes All-league Roger Mower, 6-4, forward; Terry Henerson, 6-1, forward; Bobby Roberts, 6-2, guard, and Paul Fitzgerald, 6', guard.

Others that will see plenty of action include Tom Fasanro, a guard that logged varsity experience in the campaign last year.

FRANK HALL and Mike Bixler are up from the jv's, while Frank Hall is a transfer that has impressed favorably.

At the center, Bill Fife, 6-7, who was also on the varsity last

PH Rebels Bomb Mariners, 26-7, In Lacey Bowl

Larry Jones, scoring two touchdowns and passing for another, sparked the Pleasant Hill Rebels to a surprising 26-7 victory over the San Francisco Mariners in the first annual Joe Lacey Memorial Pop Warner League Bowl, the game played at Washington High School in San Francisco.

Pleasant Hill drew first blood in the contest when Jones fielded a punt in the second quarter and rammed 60 yards for the score. The PAT was good, and the Rebels led 7-0 at the half.

In the third period, the Rebels exploded for two touchdowns, good for 13 points to put the game beyond the reach of the Mariners.

The two Pop Warner teams traded touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the Mariners picking up their consolation score in the closing minutes of the contest.

The Rebels closed out their season on a successful note. Previously, they had bowed only to the strong Pittsburg Mallards as they finished second in their league.

Turkey Shoot Golf At RHCC Ends in Tie

Round Hill Country Club Women's Association held a turkey shoot last week with Mrs. U. V. Stewart 87-13-74, and Mrs. John Osmundsen 95-21-74 sharing first place honors in Class A. Mrs. Walter Streb, 92-16-76, rounded out third place in the Class A division.

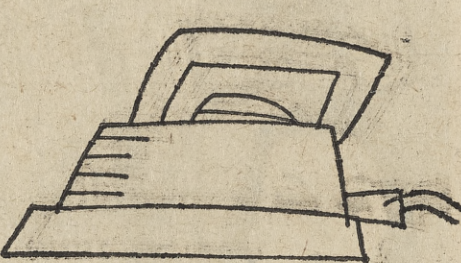

In Class B, Mrs. John Poletti, 108-36-72, was the winner. Runner-up honors were shared by Mrs. Harold Turner, 111-33-78, and Mrs. Austin Little, 108-30-78.

Mrs. John Peletti, 108-36-72 was the winner in the Tray Day classification.

Six reasons why you'll waltz through washday with an automatic dryer:

You won't have to lift and lug those back-breaking baskets of wet wash any more. (The average homemaker carries about two tons of wet wash to the line each year.)

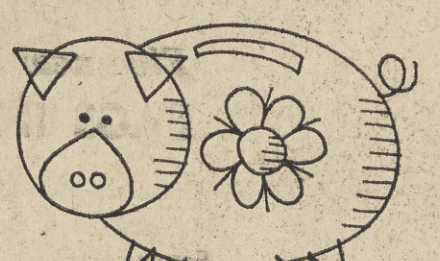

Ironing is easier. New damp-dry settings make clothes come out just right for ironing. And some fabrics come out so wrinkle-free, they need no ironing at all.

You'll be able to dry your wash at any hour of the day or night. And don't forget the weather! Or rather, do forget it. With a dryer, any day is wash day.

Laundry comes out soft, fluffy . . . looks and feels good. And a dryer's ultra-violet light gives your clothes the sweet smell of summer sunshine all year long.

You'll save money on clothing—especially for "small-fry." Clothing lasts longer, and fewer clothes and linens are needed when you can wash and dry any time.

You'll feel so much fresher at the end of the day. And think of the extra time you'll be able to spend with your family—instead of with your clothesline.

Cagers Start Play Today

By HEC HANCOCK

With the football season safely stuffed away in mothballs, the basketballers now prepare to take over, the tip-off on the Foothill Athletic League practice season slated for this evening when Las Lomas hosts Skyline High of Oakland.

Next week, with games slated for Wednesday and Friday, the balance of the league will swing into action.

Opening of the FAL season is slated for January 10, with each entry having lined up an active practice slate.

ATTEMPTS to crystal ball the FAL would indicate that a lively race for the top spot is apt to be forthcoming, with at least four clubs taking a very active role.

On the basis of the pre-season information, the top echelon of FAL appears to be Piedmont, Miramonte, Acalanes and San Ramon.

It's generally felt that Alhambra will be a stronger entry, and could be more than just troublesome.

Las Lomas, with a new coach, but lacking experience, should be improved, but still shy of the contending group.

DEL VALLE, also hurt by graduation, will be in a rebuilding phase.

Hoping to successfully defend the title they won last season with an outstanding 11-1 record, Acalanes figures to be right in the thick of the fight.

Coach Bert Barnett has a club that is fairly deep at all positions. Barnett reports "We should have more depth. However, we'll have to wait and see if we can get the consistent shooting we have to have."

Barnett added "Last year we were lucky, having no serious injuries. Already, Mike Hallock and Don Albright have been hampered, having picked up injuries in football that they are just now recovering from."

A BIG KEY to the success enjoyed by the Dons will rest with Greg Malley, 6-7, junior center. Malley saw action with the varsity in the closing games last year, and he's counted on heavily to take over the important center slot.

Other Don holdovers include Bob Strain, a good floorman and better than average shooter. Fred Seeley, 6-1, forward, a starter on last year's club, is also back.

Other varsity veterans include Tom Alexander, Hallock and Albright.

Help is expected from Lee Newell, an All-League performer with the JV's last year. Newell has demonstrated he's capable of providing the essential outside shooting.

OTHERS counted on to help are transfer, Larry Tiedig, a junior guard. Also up from the JV's is Dale Spire, a 6' guard that's a real leaper.

Pressing the Dons all the way last season, Miramonte appears to be one of the prime, if not the favorite for this race.

Back from last year's outstanding team are forwards Pete Boyle and Steve Thaman. Tevis Thompson, 6-5 center, also returns.

Steve Cummings, a reserve forward last year, has been moved to guard for this campaign.

BACKING UP this group of vets will be a number of promising prospects from last year's championship jv team.

Jeff Anderson, a 6-2 forward, is counted on for help during the year. Bob Anderson, 6-3 center, is currently hampered by a bad knee, but is expected to battle Thompson for the center job on the Mat varsity.

Other jv grads include guards Ron Hudson and Tom Murphy. Max Milton, a steady performer, will also see plenty of action this year.

Mat mentor Herb Graw sees the race as a four team battle. "We hope to be in it. As in the past, we'll use more ball control and feature an aggressive defense. However, we'll probably run a little more this year," reports Graw.

DOWN AT San Ramon, Coach Larry DeRushia has a team that many feel could be the best in the FAL.

Heading the list of vets is Jim Galyen, 6-3 forward, who was first string as a junior. Chuck Ferreira, all-league second string nomination, will be at guard. Also back is his football battery mate, Ron McLaughlin, slated to play both guard and forward. Jerry Crowley, another letterman from last year, is another candidate for forward.

Pat Ozone, 6-2 forward, was all-league with the JV's last year and is counted on for action.

However, the big man in the Wolfpack's war plans is Tom Jones, 6-7 center. A junior, Jones played most of the year with the JV's last year, moving up to the varsity towards the end of the year.

Jones impressed those that caught his action in the basketball league at Concord this past summer.

Two other JV's expected to help are Larry Becker, 6-3 center, and Doug Thomson, 6-4 forward.

Piedmont has three of their top seven players of last year returning. In Bob Wolfe, 6-5 forward, the Scots have what many consider the best player in the league.

JOINING WOLFE are Tom Williamson and Bob Ingalls, currently fresh from the grid wars.

Mal McElwain who played jv ball last year is a leading candidate for center. Other help is expected to be forthcoming from Craig Rubenstein, a guard on last year's varsity. Tom Henderson, leading frosh scorer, and soph Don Perkins are considered good prospects.

Jim Webster has taken over as head man at Las Lomas and appears to have walked in on a rebuilding job. Only one letterman was on hand to greet Webster.

Daryl Razzano, 6-6 center, is the only Knight holdover.

HOWEVER, other prospects include senior guard Steve Michelson, guard; Greg Phelan, a 5-11 guard; Steve Guy, 6-4 forward, and Gary Ware, 6-2 forward.

A battle for the guard position is developing between Bob Buck and John Black, both on the short side, but possessing good speed.

Another contender for varsity spot is Rich Jager, a real jumper at 6-4. Jager hasn't played ball previously, and while hampered by the lack of experience, has shown fine potential.

Alhambra has a host of returning lettermen to man this year's entry.

MIKE SHARROCK and Paul Waite on hand, the Bulldogs should be able to improve last year's record.

Del Valle has only three veterans returning. In addition to the scarcity of experience, the Trojans are hurting for lack of height.

Back from last year's squad are guards Vic Shellenberg and John Torgenson. Scott Smith is the only other Trojan cager that has any varsity experience.

Viks Belt Rams 24-6, Face San Jose

Diablo Valley College will go after their second straight win tomorrow night as a follow-up to their stunning 24-6 upset over City College of San Francisco last Saturday afternoon in their homecoming game at Martinez.

The Vikings will journey to San Jose for their 1963 Golden Gate Conference finale against SJCC Jaguars at 8 p.m.

The Vikings had 11 straight defeats and one tie going into the CCSF contest.

BOTH TEAMS' defensive units kept the game a 0-0 tie the first quarter, but the Vikings gave in first in the second period when speedy halfback T. Phillips took the double reverse and skirted his left end for a 16-yard tally that climaxed a five-play 36-yard march. Missim ran around right end in attempt for the two points, but was greeted by a flock of Vikings and tackled a yard short of the endzone.

Mighty mite Ron Morelli took the kickoff at the 16 and raced to midfield before being flipped by a Ram tackler, but Morelli kept his footing and went another 21 yards to the CCSF 29. An illegal procedure was assessed against the Vikings on the first play. Quarterback Dave Dyer tossed a pass to his favorite target, Bob Fredericks, in the left flat for 21 yards. Dean Hilger bulled for another four yards and then Dyer hit little Morelli with a 13-yard pitch to the one-foot line. Dave Shepherd smashed up the middle for the score with 8:17 left on the clock. Dyer connected with Mike Kyle for the two-point conversion pass.

ON THE FIRST down Dyer decided to try the airways and flipped a 15 yarder to Kyle on the right sidelines. Dyer tried Kyle again but overthrew the lanky end.

Hilger followed with a one-yard dive over the middle of the line. Dyer overthrew Fredericks on third down and nine and called on tall end again. This time he found Fredericks in the clear and tossed high into the endzone but the sticky fingered end leaped high for a sensational 11-yard touchdown. Butch Rounsaville scored the two-point conversion on a quarterback sneak to give DVC a 16-6 intermission lead.

Duane Smith batted the pigskin out of Henry Scott's hands and Shepherd recovered the loose ball for the Vikings on the 14-yard line to pave the way for the final TD.

Welfare Chief Defends Program

Social Welfare Director W. G. Golden told the board of supervisors last week the protective service program has shown excellent results.

He said he could not understand the 1962-63 grand jury's recommendation to eliminate the service, which is a specialized casework for children who are neglected, abused, exploited or cruelly treated.

SUBJECTS FOR the service are referred by police, probation, school and social service departments. They come chiefly from western Contra Costa County.

The service is preventive and geared toward rehabilitation of the home and treatment of underlying factors, Golden said.

"We do not presume to call these adjustments cures, but quite disturbed people sometimes are able to make shifts in living habits."

THE GRAND JURY called the program an invasion of privacy and an undue extension of the powers and purposes of the department. The program could be handled by the referring agencies, it said.

Heart Damage Caused By Strep Throat

The fall and winter seasons bring higher incidences of sore throats. The most serious type is the "strep sore throat" which, according to the Contra Costa Heart Association, may cause rheumatic fever.

Rheumatic fever can cause permanent damage to the lining and valves of the heart. When this happens, the condition is called rheumatic heart disease. It is responsible for half of all heart disease in children of school age.

SCIENTISTS spent years studying patients whose strep sore throats were promptly and adequately treated, and others whose sore throats went untreated. They discovered that when the strep infection is effectively eradicated, usually by large dosages of penicillin, rheumatic fever doesn't occur. And without rheumatic fever we'd have no rheumatic heart disease.

Many strep infections go unrecognized. These are "silent" infections, causing no symptoms that would alert the patient to seek medical care, but which can trigger a rheumatic fever attack just the same. However, if every known strep infection were promptly and properly treated, the incidence of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease could be brought lower each year, according to the Heart Association.

Garden CHECK-LIST

PREPARED BY THE CALIFORNIA ASSOCIATION OF NURSERYMEN

Make sure newly planted trees are solidly staked against possible wind damage this winter.

Mulch around shrubs with steer manure. If you fertilize this time of year, use a slow-acting plant food such as bone meal.

Plant perennials for spring bloom. Delphinium, day lily, sweet william, canterbury bells, coral bells and many others may go in now.

All manner of shrubs can be planted in November. Camellias and azaleas are good bets because they will bloom in winter and spring to give you quick rewards.

Good Fruit Cake

Now is the time to make fruit cake for Christmas giving and eating. Here are the answers to some of the questions the County Home Advisor receives at this time of the year.

Question: Do you make an adjustment in the recipe for salt, if an unsalted fat is used instead of butter or margarine?

Answer: Yes. When substituting unsalted fat, use one teaspoon salt per cup fat used. Some recipes, often dark fruit cakes, do not have salt as an ingredient.

Question: I seem always to end up using my hands in mixing fruit cakes. Is there another way?

Answer: A heavy wooden spoon works well... your hands are very good. Flour them first and you will find it easier to manipulate the dough. Electric mixers are ideal for creaming the fat and beating the eggs. Most home mixers are not made for the final mixing.

Question: What would be a good substitute for wine or liquor in a fruit cake recipe?

Answer: For dark cakes, grape juice would probably be best. Some dark fruit cakes call for coffee. In light cakes you could use sweet cider or one of the citrus juices, lemon, orange or grapefruit juice.

Question: I like to use the mixed candied fruits and peels, but my favorite recipe calls for certain ones. Would I be able to substitute the commercially prepared ones?

Answer: Yes. For the total amount of candied fruits and peels, use a like amount of the mixed ones. You'll notice the light colored fruits are used for light or white fruit cakes. You can suit your personal taste as to the kind of raisins and currants you use, too. The main thing to consider is the total amount of fruit used should be in the recommended proportions.

Question: One of my friends grinds nuts for fruit cake. What would be the advantage of this?

Answer: Most people like the large nut pieces. If you like finely chopped nuts, it is better to chop them than use the grinder. A food grinder crushes the nuts and releases the oil, I would prefer the nuts in large pieces, sliced or chopped, for the flavor.

Question: If I use liner-paper in the baking pans, is it necessary to grease the pans, too?

Answer: Pans for fruit cake should be very well greased. If liner paper is used (heavy brown paper or heavy waxed paper) grease the paper thoroughly as well as the pans.

Question: How can one get neat corners when using paper liners?

Answer: The easiest way is to use one strip of paper lengthwise of the pan and a second strip the width of the pan. Allow the paper to come above the edges of the pan, at least 1/4 inch. This extra paper helps you lift the cake from the pan. You will not need to allow space at the top of the baking pans for rising of the batter. They can be filled to within 1/4 inch from the top.

Question: The new slender one-pound coffee cans are a nice size for fruit cakes. My recipe says I will get a five-pound fruit cake. How many of these cans should I have on hand?

Answer: Baked fruit cakes weigh very little less than the batter, about 2 ounces per pound. For your recipe, you would need five one-pound cans.

Question: If I use a tube pan, how can I estimate the time the fruit cake should bake?

Answer: Fruit cakes are baked at very low temperatures, usually 250 or 275 degrees F. In general, a one-pound loaf will take about 2 1/2 to three hours to bake. Add one-half hour baking time per pound of batter. For example, a 10-inch tube pan holds about five pounds of batter, so you would need to plan on around five hours. After baking, let the fruit cake cool in the pan. After the cake is thoroughly cooled, strip off the paper-liner.

Question: What is an easy method for glazing a fruit cake?

Answer: Use a thin film honey or light corn syrup for a glaze. This should be spread over the cake about the last half hour of the baking time.

If you are going to use fruits or nuts for decorating the tops of the cakes these should be arranged on the cake before the end of the baking time. If you find the surface of the cake is too dry for the fruits to stick, or if the fruits are added after baking, try dipping the fruits and nuts into unbeaten egg white, corn syrup or honey, then arrange.

Question: May fruit cakes be stored without refrigeration?

Answer: You may wish to "mellow" your cake from one to three weeks. To do this, place the cakes in a covered casserole or container, pour a sweet dessert wine or brandy over the cake several times. Or, the cakes may be wrapped in cheesecloth which has been saturated with wine or brandy.

Brandy is better in warm storage because of its higher alcoholic content, where there may be a tendency for the cakes to mold. Cakes treated with brandy have been kept for many months without refrigeration. Fruit cakes freeze well, although the refrigerator is an excellent place to store fruit cakes up to six or eight weeks. If they need moisture, an apple or an orange may be stored with the cake for moisture and flavor.

SHALL I SMOKE?
"Shall I Smoke?" is the title of a leaflet on cigarette smoking and lung cancer which has been prepared by the American Cancer Society for distribution to high school students.

Group Warns of Rabies Danger In County Area

Two veterinary medical practitioners in the Eastbay, Drs. George W. W. Eberhart and Robert Lammers, members of the Alameda-Contra Costa Veterinary Medical Association's rabies committee, today revealed facts on the dreaded disease of rabies.

Commenting on the disease in cats, skunks, raccoons and coyotes, their report showed that while cat rabies from 1938-60 averaged 372 cases annually in the United States, rabies among wild animals was increasing.

Two-thirds of the cats with rabies showed symptoms of being furious, while one-third became lethargic. This latter group, warned the veterinarians, could suddenly become violent while being petted. Behavior patterns of raccoons, skunks and coyotes showed an unusually friendly attitude, quite uncommon to their species. Normally these animals avoid man, but when rabies-afflicted they actually approach people and show signs of friendliness.

"This can be very dangerous," said Dr. Eberhart, "especially if young children misinterpret these signs. Sometimes diseased animals will allow man to touch them, but the slightest excitement may provoke them into biting."

These factors, point out Drs. Eberhart and Lammers, show the need for extreme caution when encountering skunks, raccoons and coyotes.

As the Eastbay is a rabies endemic area the vaccination of five minutes to vaccinate an animal and cats is particularly mal against rabies, but the long-stress by the Alameda-Contra Costa Veterinary Medical Association gives your family an assurance of protection. Actually, a spokesman of full protection.

Children Like Some Foods Best

HOW FOOD looks, tastes and feels in a child's mouth makes the difference in his eating habits. Children like:

Bright colors: Foods like red gelatin, orange carrots, green beans.

Mild flavors: Young tender carrots, potatoes, bananas and applesauce are appealing to a pre-schooler. Onions, cauliflower, cabbage or broccoli may be frowned upon because of their strong flavor.

Textures: Variety may be achieved by serving crisp, raw vegetables and fruits at the same meal as smooth soups and soft-cooked eggs and meats.

Finger foods: Carrot sticks, small pieces of lettuce and sandwiches cut in bite size make these foods easy to handle.

Unmixed, simple foods: Meat patties are preferred to mixtures, for example to meat in a stew.

Consistency: Moist foods, such as eggs, soup, puddings and custard are well liked by children.

QUESTION: What is Teflon?

Answer: Teflon is a smooth, plastic coating that is being used on cooking utensils and other items. The chemical name of Teflon is fluoro-carbon resin. There are other finishes of this kind available too. Some home-makers have used the sprayed-on type — this, however, is washed off in the dishwashing process and must be repeated each time the pan is used.

HOUSE CARE SERIES: Getting ready for spring cleaning? Our home management specialists have prepared a series of house care publications giving specific recommendations for many household surfaces and furnishings.

Any of the following are available free of charge from our office by writing to Home Advisor, P.O. Box 390, Pittsburg: "Organize Your House Care," "Soils and Soil Removers," "Walls," "Smooth Surface Floors," "Porcelain Enamel and Ceramic Tile," "Carpets and Rugs," "Windows and Venetian Blinds," "Furniture," "Metals."

CC College Trains Job Applicants

Contra Costa College hosted staff members of the County Social Service Department to acquaint them with occupational and technical training at the local college, Russell G. Stillwell, dean of student personnel, announced today.

As part of its program to help people receiving welfare aid to be self-supporting, the Social Service Department is making use of the college's vocational courses to give employable job skills to its clients.

Working with college counselor Albert Noguchi, the department plans programs, provides funds for college expenses, and maintains close guidance for each student enrolled.

For all students referred by Social Service, the college has been able to find some worthwhile program.

While some of the students enroll in general education courses for transfer to a four-year college, most of them take a one or two-year vocational or technical program.

The majority of social service referrals to the college are women who become the breadwinners for their families. They generally have no employable skill or must have a higher skill for higher wages to support a family.

Mental Health Group Requests Gifts For Kids

Some of the more than 300 children who will be spending Christmas at Napa State Hospital will not be remembered by their family. They requested a variety of gifts that can be made or bought by the Christmas Project Committee, according to Mrs. Robert Love of Lafayette, volunteer chairman of the group.

Contra Costa County Mental Health Association. The children, 6 to 16 years of age, requested tinker toys, playing cards, model cars, mosaic kits, copper tooling kits, children's picture books, art work, sewing kits, hair curlers, and ball point pens. Other requests were shoe shine kits, coin purses, hair brushes, nail clippers, high top tennis shoes (sizes 6, 8, 9, 12), Spanish books and floral paper craft kit. In addition the nurses requested tricycles, scooters and wagons for ward use, games and toys.

Vets Pets Diseases Is Topic

The Alameda-Contra Costa Veterinary Medical Association conducted a panel discussion at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday.

Two diseases in small animals were under consideration: cistitis and anemia. Members compared case histories or treatment of these pet animal diseases.

Conducting the panel were the following doctors of veterinary medicine: Herman Bonish, Robert Mahs and William Anderson. James Harris, D.V.M., will be moderator. The dinner meeting was held at Peluso's, Oakland.

Birth Defects Cause More Infant Deaths

From the headquarters of the Contra Costa March of Dimes today, news was received to the effect that birth defects are the leading killer of infants.

The annual mortality exceeds 30,000. Said Dr. Allan C. Barnes, Johns Hopkins University, "No other birthday is surrounded by the mortality which surrounds the day of birth."

"From the 36th week of pregnancy to the fourth week of life represents an eight-week span during which 3.5 per cent of our population dies and almost an equal number are found to be damaged."

"This period contains the peak incidence of death in this country."

Gift Certificates

"The gardener" loves nothing better than to receive a gift of garden value when Christmas comes. One sure way to please him is to give a gift certificate from a member of the California Association of Nurserymen.

This has become an ever more popular gift over the years and has, as its main value, the chance for each recipient to choose his own gift.

UNUSUAL requests made by geriatric patients included pocket watches, tobacco pouches, hair dressing for men, instant coffee, hair brushes and combs, plastic clothes pins, nail clippers, pipes, woolen capes and shawls, sweaters suspenders, magnifying glass, movie film splicer, diabetic candy, candy (soft and hard), bright stone

College Board Hears Math Talk

Mathematics is not precisely the exact science its devotees claim it to be, but without it no spacecraft would ever leave the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Kenneth C. Skeen, Diablo Valley College math department chairman, told the college district governing board recently.

His presentation was another in a series designed to acquaint board members with the various programs offered by the district's two colleges.

AT DVC, Skeen said, "the aim is to provide a strong background for any choices our students may make as to their future career."

Recently developed at DVC has been a new principles of numbers course in which the emphasis is on structure and proof in arithmetic and algebra; a statistics course, and a math refresher course.

DVC also has two new classes in which programmed textbooks are being used experimentally, and its calculus course has been expanded to meet the demands of a rapidly changing technology. In all, the college offers 15 math courses.

THE UNIVERSITY of California reports that transfer students who at the time of enrollment were eligible to enter the university, do as well or better in math than students who enter the university directly as freshmen, Skeen told the board.

Skeen, author of numerous textbooks used in high schools and colleges, is a past president of the State Association of Teachers of Mathematics, and an ex-officio member of the board of directors of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

"These are the most exciting times cancer research has ever known," Charles Heidelberger, Ph.D., professor of oncology at the University of Wisconsin.

Outside Use of Schools Is Heavy, Board Hears

Community groups used the facilities of the Acalanes Union High School District approximately 2500 times last year, according to a report made recently to the governing board of the district.

Community use of high school facilities outside of the regular district school program averaged nine uses a day, six days a week, 52 weeks of the year. Attendance for use activities ranged from as few as 10 people to as many as 2000 for single activities.

ASSISTANT superintendent for business Ross Reagan reported that two-thirds of the uses were for community recreation with the Lafayette Youth Association and the Walnut Creek Recreation Center the prime users.

Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek bore the brunt of approximately half of the community use activity; Acalanes received a fourth of the use with the remaining fourth spread between Del Valle and Miramonte high schools.

In response to queries by the board on the reason for Las Lomas' heavier involvement, Reagan noted, "Walnut Creek campus was probably the best located site for general community activity."

USERS RANGED from the Boy Scouts of America, University of California extension program and the U.S. Air Force to a community circus, Reagan pointed out that the use of high school facilities is provided for by a state civic center law.

Charges are applied to admission-paid activities and those not related to general character building or welfare organization uses, as prescribed by law.

Cost of operating the facilities for community use purposes last year was $33,500.

"Of this amount approximately $3000 went for the district's own sponsored recreation program. The $30,000 balance paid for use activities by outside of school organizations. Use amounted to 2.8 cents on the tax rate."

BOARD Member Will C. Hall noted the "District economically provides facilities to a very large number of community groups."

Trustees William Lee and Hall suggested, "Where feasible, users be directed from Las Lomas High to Del Valle High School, which is only five minutes away from downtown Walnut Creek and now enjoys improved access to its campus." The move would relieve the Las Lomas campus.

REAGAN OBSERVED that at times use becomes so heavy regular maintenance work is moderately stymied. He noted that in accordance with the state civic center law, facilities were open to political meetings and programs which sometimes draws complaints from one or two citizens. "The district does not sponsor these programs, it provides the housing as the law requires."

Wait Awhile To Prune Some Plants

Many deciduous shrubs and trees may be pruned this month and next, but the spring-flowering varieties are not among them.

The California Association of Nurserymen reminds us not to prune such spring bloomers as weigelia, lilac, viburnum, forsythia and magnolia now. Wait until they have bloomed, then hit them with the shears forthwith.

Bareroot Season Is Almost upon Us

Mid-December is the start of the bareroot season which means that all manner of things may now be planted more cheaply than at any other time of year.

Roses are the big items of the trade, but so are fruit trees, shade trees, many spring-flowering shrubs and a host of spring-flowering trees.

A check with your nursery will indicate how wide the selection is for bareroot planting.

Heath Groups Will Discuss Smoking Facts

The Contra Costa Branch of the American Cancer Society is inviting representatives of the county health department, the American Heart Association and the Tuberculosis and Health Association to join it in mobilizing to get known facts about smoking and disease before the public.

Dr. Herbert Packard of Alamo, president of the Contra Costa branch, has asked presidents and executive directors of the heart and TB organization, Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer, and Lloyd Frost of the county health department to meet at the cancer society county offices Wednesday for a luncheon meeting devoted to program planning.

Serve Good Health Says County Heart Group

The holiday season with its tradition of good eating poses problems for the family cook concerned with weight problems in her family.

And it's a rare family gathering that doesn't have at least one member who is either frankly on a diet or at least quietly concerned about being overweight. It may be a good thing, too, for obesity never made anyone healthier, according to the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

USE OF ingenuity in the kitchen can help minimize painful decisions in the dining room, and the weaker willed food loving guests and relatives will benefit from the removal of temptation.

With a dash of creative imagination, the cook can come up with a fresh new version of traditional holiday feasting—one to please both the puny and the plump. The same ideas can be applied the year 'round.

TRY NEW METHODS of cooking meats and vegetables—broil, roast, steam. Make stew the day before so it can be chilled and the fat removed before reheating. Explore new seasonings, especially in the preparation of salt-reduced meals.

Let your holiday bird be turkey or chicken, rather than a fat-rich goose. Moisturize the stuffing with fat-free bouillon. Don't serve poultry skin to the overweight.

rump or eye round of beef. These cuts of meat are relatively lean.

AVOID calorie-loaded sauces. There's a whole world of spices and herbs to add flair, flavor and minimal calories to meals. Instead of rich sauces try some of the following:

1. With green vegetable: Lemon juice, mace, mint, basil, ginger, dill seed or parsley.
2. With poultry: Paprika, poultry seasoning, thyme or sage.
3. With beef: Bay leaf, dry mustard, marjoram or nutmeg.
4. With lamb: Garlic, mint, rosemary or curry.
5. With pork: Onion, sage or applesauce.
6. With fish: Lemon juice, paprika or dry mustard.

The flavor possibilities are endless and can be varied to suit the family's tastes and their weight and health requirements. And finally, the Heart Association cautions: Holidays or not, eat wisely but not too well. Overeating can lead to bulges and obesity. It doesn't help either your good health or good looks.

APPROPRIATE CHRISTMAS THEME—Throughout Capwell's this season can be seen all the words to that "partridge in a pear tree" song of yore. Putting the finishing touches to the "six geese a laying" part is Capwell's Milton Mead, store decorations supervisor, and Jean Day of Canyon, who was responsible for the manufacture of the entire production on the theme.

Sun photos by Tealcraft

WHAT A DOLL—if you will pardon the expression. Jean Day and her boss, Milton Mead, show how the dolls were manufactured right there in Capwell's basement. The dolls which make up the extensive "partridge in a pear tree" theme of Capwell's in their Broadway, Walnut Creek, store are the prime creation of Jean, who has been engaged on the job since early in the year on and off. The display is now on view to the public and makes for quite a Christmas atmosphere despite the normally unseasonable Christmas weather of California.

Simon Hardware Reports Record

Record sales and earnings for the first five months of the fiscal year were reported today by Simon Hardware Company, Oakland operator of department stores in Oakland and Walnut Creek.

In the interim report for the five months ended September 30, Bertram E. Simon, president, and Stanley D. Simon, chairman, told stockholders that on a 7.7 per cent increase in sales, net income for the five-month period rose from $8,127 last year to $102,385.

EARNINGS per share of A and B common stock amounted to 15 cents, compared with less than a cent last year. Total sales advanced from $5,215,402 for the five-month period last year to $5,618,424 for the corresponding period this year.

Management stated its belief that the reorganization of the management structure, the store modernization program and other improvements in operations were chiefly responsible for the improvement in earnings to date.

Cracker Barrel Delicatessen Is Open at Plaza

The Cracker Barrel Delicatessen is now open in the Plaza Center at 3502B Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Owner Matthew Tinonga, who operated a delicatessen in San Lorenzo for seven years, says all kinds of food specialties are available: Kosher, Italian sausages and lunch meats, barbecue dishes, salads, a wide selection of cheeses, breads and cookies.

AND, HE SAID, if he doesn't have an item on hand, he will order it on demand. "I will feature personal service," he declared.

The Cracker Barrel will offer foods to PTA and other civic groups at wholesale prices, Tinonga said.

Store hours are from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

The delicatessen owner now lives in Lafayette with his wife Katherine and son, Matthew III. Store personnel includes his brother John and Mrs. Pam Sale.

Control Leaf-Curl Fungus with Spray

The leaf-curl fungus which affects most peaches and nectarines can easily be controlled with two sprayings—one now and another in late winter. Ask your nurseryman to recommend a proper spray and then apply it thoroughly.

Don't spray before the leaves fall, however, and rake them up when they do. No sense in leaving diseased leaves lying around to cause trouble again at a later date.

Handbooks Are Given Away

Volunteers are needed to help address envelopes for the 1964 Easter Seal Campaign, according to an announcement from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

Mrs. L. W. Holley of Richmond, chairman of the 1964 Easter Seal mail campaign in Contra Costa County, said that the only requisite for the volunteer service is either typing ability or legible handwriting.

Mrs. Holley added that the addressing of 1000 envelopes can be accomplished by one person working for only brief stretches over a two week period. She said that all envelopes must be addressed by January 1, since Easter will be early in 1964.

Arrangements for picking up materials for the addressing of envelopes may be made by calling Mrs. William Cogan, 1140 Bacon Way, Walnut Creek, at 934-1898.

International Center Hears Dr. Brokensha

Members of the International Hospital Center of the East Bay were asked to "come and bring a potential member" to a coffee get-together Wednesday at the Montrose Road home of Mrs. Charles Mel in Berkeley.

Dr. David Brokensha, secretary of the Institute of International Studies at the University of California, former director of Peace Corps training for Ghana and widely experienced in African affairs was the principal speaker.
